Air Force Rescues 12 Fliers

Final Attempt Beats Carrier

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Twelve men who have been stranded on a frigid Greenland icecap up to three weeks were rescued today, the air force announced.

They were picked up by a C-47 operating from an air base which is 270 miles northwest of the crash scene, the announcement said.

The rescue came as the U.S.S. Saipan drove northward through the storm-swept Atlantic in an effort to reach the men with helicopters. The navy carrier sailed from Norfolk, Va., on Christmas day.

The air force said it had been in error in previous announcements that 13 men were stranded on the ice peak.

It had assumed, it said, that two men were aboard a glider which made the last previous rescue attempt, when in reality only one man was aboard. Seven men were stranded Dec. 9 when their plane was forced down. Five others joined them from time to time in unsuccessful rescue operations.

The rescuing C-47, which had jet-assist takeoff equipment and skis, landed on the crusted snow at 9:30 a. m. (EST), loaded the men aboard, and took off at 10:08 a. m. (EST).

It was expected at its base, Bluie West Eight, at 12.10 p. m. (EST).

BASE CLOSED

Previous rescue operations have been conducted from Bluie West One, an air force base about 110 miles from the stranded men, but the air force said that base is closing in because of heavy snow.

The rescue plane is expected to refuel at Bluie West Eight and take the men to Labrador.

Air force officials said, however, that if the men are in good condition, they may remain at Bluie West Eight until they can be returned to Bluie West One.

All of them were stationed there, and five of them have their families at that base.

The rescue plane was piloted by Lt. Col. Emil G. Beaudry, a native of Manchester, N. H., now stationed at Westover (Mass.) air force base.

Fear Welles Losing Legs

WASHINGTON —(INS)— Former Undersecretary of State Sumner Welles fought today to regain use of his numbed legs which may have to be amputated if serious complications develop.

Welles, his limbs bandaged in cold compresses, is suffering from impaired blood circulation as a result of seven hours exposure to subfreezing temperatures Sunday morning.

It is understood that if amputation is required the operation will be confined to the area below the knees. Doctors treating Welles at Washington's Casualty hospital emphasized, however, that amputation may not be necessary if the former state department official responds to treatment.

Dr. George R. Huffman, Welles' personal physician, said he would be unable to estimate the extent of the damage to Welles' legs for at least another four days.

Charter Plane Lost On Flight

MIAMI, Fla.—(AP)—A twin-engined DC-3 charter plane with an undetermined number of passengers aboard was missing on a flight from San Juan, Puerto Rico, to Miami today.

A widespread air search began soon after dawn. Coast guard search and rescue headquarters here said army and navy planes joined coast guard rescue aircraft in the quest.

Marriage Mill Draws Attack

PARKERSBURG, W. VA., — (UP) — Investigation may be demanded of conditions alleged to have turned Pomeroy, O., in a 'marriage mill," two Wood county legal authorities incidated yesterday.

Flagrant violations of laws governing the wait for blood test results by justices of the peace were charged. In support of the allegation, instances were cited where a 15-year-old Parkersburg girl received a license and another where a couple was married the same day the permit was issued.

Truman Mum on Details of Red Split Over 'Cold War'

KANSAS CITY—(AP)—President Truman declined to elaborate today on his disclosure that "certain leaders" behind the Russian iron curtain are anxious to end the "cold war."

Presidential Press Secretary Charles G. Ross told reporters Mr. Truman does not intend to name the men within the Soviet government advocating an "understanding" with the United States.

The President's surprise revelation in a luncheon speech yesterday and his new indictment of the Russian government for blocking peace efforts spawned widespread speculation as to whether it heralded new moves on the diplomatic front.

Ross said the President told him he had nothing to add to his off-the-cuff luncheon address before approximately 200 Missourians gathered to honor Eddie Jacobson, former partner of Mr. Truman in a haberdashery store.

The press secretary turned a deaf ear to all inquiries as to whether there was any information indicating a "revolt" within the top ranks of the Russian leadership.

Without a prepared manuscript and in the absence of an official White House stenographer, Mr. Truman fired a straight-from-the-hip indictment of the Soviet government for:

1. Refusing to keep the agreement Premier Stalin made at Yalta and Potsdam.
2. Using a "system of morals that are not morals."
3. Opposing agreements which might pave the way for preserving the peace in troubled spots everywhere.
4. Making it clear that "contracts are not sacred" in its dealings with the United States and the western powers.

He followed up his most severe castigation yet of controlling powers at Moscow with this statement:

"There are certain leaders in the government of that great country who are exceedingly anxious to have an understanding with us."

He did not specify what leaders he referred to or say what overtures may have been made to the United States.

Under pressure from newsmen as to what "leaders" the President had in mind, Ross held a consultation with Mr. Truman, and reported afterwards:

"He doesn't intend to name them. I just talked to him."

City Costs Hit Record Total In '48

Appropriations Upped $307,217

By SHELDON BINN

It cost $1,621,758 to run Mansfield in 1948—more than any previous year in the city's history, a News-Journal survey showed today.

According to figures supplied by City Auditor Paul L. Kelley it cost the taxpayers 23 per cent more to keep the machinery of local government moving than was anticipated at the beginning of the year.

The annual appropriation bill approved in January totaled $1,314,343. During the year, an additional $307,217 was added in the form of supplemental appropriations, bringing the total to $1,621,758.

The largest supplemental appropriations were made for the general fund, largely in the form of the city's share of the ambitious street improvement program which called for resurfacing of portions of five streets and the paving of seven others.

The original appropriation for the general fund totaled $592,578 It was increased by 26 per cent, or $152,854, during the year.

UP 39 PER CENT

The largest supplemental appropriations in point of percentage and second largest in amount of money were made for the water fund, where the original appropriation of $268,789 was raised 39 per cent to $374,700.

Supplemental appropriations for the street department ranked third, the original appropriation of $148,900 being upped by 27 per cent to $189,540.

Part of the increase was due to an increase in the number of man-hours worked and the need for more repair materials than first was anticipated.

Other funds and their amount of percentage of increase follows:

Recreation fund, $13,025, raised 32 per cent to $17,225; and parking meter fund, $50,220, raised five per cent to $52,720; garbage fund, $85,650, raised seven per cent to $91,750 and the sanitary sewer fund, $86,555, raised six per cent to $91,655.

The police and fire pension funds remained unchanged at $29,220 and $29,606 respectively.

Tiny Child Abandoned By Mother

LOUISVILLE, KY., — (UP) — Police today searched for a "heart-broken mother" who abandoned her four-week-old girl at Union station here yesterday. Authorities want to give the mother and child a new start in life.

The mother, described as being about 17 or 18 and blond, disappeared into a crowd after laying the baby down.

A note inside the baby's blanket read:

"Take good care of my little girl. I love her so much, and it is breaking my heart to give her up. But her father deserted us, and I know I can never give her the home and care she deserves.

"Sincerely,

"Her heartbroken mother."

Assassin Slays Pasha

Egyptian Premier Shot By Student

CAIRO —(INS)— Egyptian Premier Mahmoud Fahm Nokrashy Pasha was assassinated today, and police immediately arrested a young Egyptian medical student believed to be the killer.

The student was identified as Abdel Meguid Hassan of Fuad university, in Cairo.

The young fanatic pumped six bullets into the Egyptian statesman at point blank range in a government building. Two shots hit the 60-year-old premier in the face and chest.

As he collapsed, the assassin fired four more shots into his body.

The assassin was believed to be a member of the fanatic Moslem Brotherhood, an organization pledged to eliminating foreign political and economic influence from Egypt

'Guard Sure Scared'

GI's Laugh About Arrest By Soviets

HERSFELD, Germany—(AP)—Six American constabulary soldiers, freed after some 30 hours of detention by Russian troops, said today Soviet officers were highly interested in U. S. Army training. The men were released last night.

An account of the arrest while the six were on a patrol Monday afternoon was given by Sgt. Joseph F. Kelly of Philadelphia.

"We were in two jeeps on regular patrol," Kelly said, "when we suddenly realized we had strayed over the American border and were about 150 yards in the Russian zone. We were getting ready to pull out when a Russian guard ran up. He fired several shots in the air and we stopped. Six more Russian soldiers came running up."

The Russians forced the men to leave their arms in the jeeps and to get out, leaving only the drivers, Pfc. Edward Sasser of Mobile, Ala., and Pfc. Chester Collins of Pineville, Ky., in the vehicles. A German border policeman accompanying them, also was arrested. A Russian was put in each jeep.

"That Russian guard was sure scared," said Pvt. Robert Deyton of Chester, S. C. "He was trying to reload his weapon and his hands were shaking so he could hardly get the cartridges out of his belt."

Kelly said they were marched to the town of Dippach, where they were questioned.

"A Russian major and a captain wanted to know how we trained and how we liked our clothing and shoes.

Cpl. John L. Warrick of Garrison, Pa., grinned

"They even tried to find out how much money we drew and if we were forced into the army."

The Russians, the men said, were interested in American equipment and in the strength and frequency of border patrols.

"Those guys tried to get real friendly," said Pfc. Lester Miller of Clemens, Ky., "but we wouldn't tell them anything."

Kelly reported that beyond names and serial numbers they refused to talk to the Russians.

"After awhile, when we even refused to say where our homes were in the States, they gave it up But treated us okay."

Wrist Slashing Causes Stir

Roosevelt Scion to Appear Before D. A.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y. — (UP)—Elliott Roosevelt was ordered to appear before the Dutchess county district attorney to explain how his actress wife, Faye Emerson, reportedly slashed her left wrist with a razor blade after a family quarrel.

District Attorney W. Vincent Grady said the son of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt had agreed to come to his office at 10 a. m. tomorrow.

Sheriff C. Fred Close said the incident took place at 4 a. m. Sunday morning in the bathroom of the "Dream House" cottage at Hyde Park which President Roosevelt had built for his retirement. The couple had lived there since the war and were alone at the time of the incident, he said.

The sheriff said Miss Emerson was "restrained" from seriously injuring herself and was driven by her husband to the home of a neighbor, Dr. H. Sherman Hirst, for treatment.

On Dr. Hirst's recommendation she was taken to Vassar Brothers hospital here, arriving at 5 a. m. She was dismissed at 12:55 p. m. yesterday with adhesive tape on her left wrist and right index finger.

Young Roosevelt called for his wife at the hospital and reportedly took her to New York where they were in seclusion.

District Attorney Grady said the case was being investigated because wounds inflicted by "sharp instruments" were supposed to be reported and the first he had heard of the incident was from newsmen rather than from Dr. Hirst.

Roosevelt and Miss Emerson were married four years ago, he for the third time, she for the second.

Last week Roosevelt and his wife sold some 100,000 Christmas trees from the family estate at roadside stands near Hyde Park and on lots in New York city.

Miss Emerson closed a long run two weeks ago in "The Play's the Thing" in New York.

City to Get 5 Reserve Outfits

Units Added To Growing List Here

Five new ground reserve units will begin operations in Mansfield next week, strengthening the city's leadership as the best defended community for its size in Ohio.

Formation of the new units was announced by Capt. R. M. Flynn, Second Army reserve unit instructor.

The new outfits will include a Field Artillery group, Military Government company, Engineer's Dump Truck company, Quartermaster Service corps and the Aviation Medical Dispensary.

The units will add 45 officers to existing reserve units here and will have a potential strength of more than 300, according to Capt. Flynn.

Field Artillery group under the command of Col. Coleman Todd will begin operations with 18 officers and a potential strength of 80 men, Capt. Flynn said. The group will meet Jan. 6 and every Thursday thereafter.

Col. Stuart M. Weaver will head the Military Government company which is scheduled to hold its first meeting Jan. 3 with 15 officers. Membership is virtually unlimited, Capt. Flynn said.

An Engineer Dump Truck company will have four officers under the command of Lt. Robert F. Dalton. They will hold their first meeting Jan. 6 and have a potential strength of four men.

The Quartermaster Service corps, commanded by Capt. Robert E. Sneeringer, will meet Jan. 6. Four officers will make up the unit and no enlisted men are expected to be signed up.

The Aviation Medical Dispensary, under the direction of Capt. Robert J. Peirce, will hold its first meeting Jan. 4 and is scheduled to have a maximum of four enlisted men and four officers.

All of these groups will meet weekly at 31 North Main street. The old T. and A. Hotel also will serve as the new headquarters for Capt. Flynn.

Negev Fight Nearing End

TEL AVIV, ISRAEL, — (AP) — Israeli blows appear to have cut the Egyptians' coastal corridor to Gaza or placed it so closely under gunsights it is unlikely Egypt will be able to reinforce it.

An Israeli military spokesman said today the battle in southern Palestine was slackening.

Unofficial sources said the town of Gaza, Egyptian garrison point 20 miles north of the Egyptian frontier on the coastal highway, was either cut off or left in peril from field artillery and naval batteries.

On the basis of unofficial information, it seemed here the second fight for control of the Negev was virtually ended. It centered on the narrow coastal strip within mortar range of the Egyptian border The first battle was in October.

Yeggs Borrow Tools To Burglarize Safe

CLEVELAND—(AP) — A safe in the Roediger Construction company's office in the Builders Exchange building was burglarized yesterday by yeggs who borrowed a crowbar and hatchet from a hardware display in the building.

Police said $150 in cash and $200 in checks was stolen.

Identify Market Bandit

Joseph Spitaleri jr., proprietor of the South Boulevards market, has positively identified Brownie Goldewski, who was shot and killed in Barberton Christmas eve during a store robbery, as the man who robbed him on Dec. 23, of $1,288.

Spitaleri, along with Miss Martha Scott, a check-out clerk at the South Boulevard market, went to Barberton yesterday with Detective Howard Shuck, where they viewed the bandit's body.

"I am certain that he is the man who held me up," Spitaleri told a News-Journal reporter today.

He said that Miss Scott also identified Goldewski as the holdup man.

WITHHOLDS STATEMENT

Meanwhile, Police Chief Jesse J. Schwab said his department would not make a definite commitment and close the books on the case until Detective Shuck returns from Barbarton today. He made the second trip with three other witnesses to the armed robbery to establish Goldewski's connection with the Mansfield holdup "beyond any reasonable doubt."

Detectives checked with Barberton police after a comparison of the techniques used in the two holdups led them to believe that Goldewski might have been the Mansfield gunman.

The fact that both bandits robbed supermarkets at closing time, posing as customers and then pulling guns at the checkout counters was considered more than a coincidence my police.

Goldewski was shot and killed by Sgt. James Hinds of the Barberton police force after Goldewski fatally shot Patrolman Vincent Gerek.

Tito Bans Red Trade

Claims Russians Violate Pacts

BELGRADE, YUGOSLAVIA, —(UP)—Yugoslavia cut off all food exports to eastern Europe today and prepared to begin trading her rich stores of copper, zinc, iron ore and timber to the west in return for industrial machinery.

The trade break with Russia and Soviet satellite countries was announced in a major policy speech before the Yugoslav parliament yesterday by Marshal Tito.

Tito said Yugoslavia no longer will export any "meat, wheat, oils and other items" to eastern Europe because those nations have violated trade agreements with Yugoslavia as a result of the Cominform's excommunication of the Tito government.

"If our allies in the countries of the peoples Democracies do not want to help us, he said, "if they violate agreements and various obligations they have with us, then of course we must sell our raw materials elsewhere to capitalist countries in order to buy the machines needed for mechanization of our mines and heavy industry."

6 Elyria Firemen Injured In Blaze

ELYRIA —(AP)— Six firemen were burned and cut today in a spray of glass and flame while fighting Elyria's worst fire in a year at the W. T. Grant company store in downtown Elyria.

The fire caused damages to the store estimated at $150,000. The J. C. Penney store and the Ash Hat shop received smoke and water damage.

Hint Feller Pay Cut

CLEVELAND — (AP) — The Cleveland News quoted President Bill Veeck of the Cleveland Indians today as saying he will ask his one time top pitcher, Bob Feller, to take a salary cut in 1949. Veeck said, "I plan to offer Bob a contract under which his attendance bonuses will start at a higher crowd figure, so naturally, if we draw the same number of people we drew last season, he'll collect less money."

Changes In Routes Approved

Five Stops Eliminated

Comprehensive changes in Mansfield's bus routes, including a shift of the transfer point to the northwest corner of Central park, will be put into effect, at the latest, by Jan 9, C. M. Ross, superintendent of Mansfield Rapid Transit, Inc., announced today.

The bus route changes were approved by Service-Safety Director Earl T. Garrison yesterday after a meeting with Ross, Mayor Roy W. Vaughn, Councilman Thomas Wright, Traffic Commissioner Frend C. Boals and Acting Traffic Commissioner Robert Garver.

Garrison's approval was verbal. Final approval will be given, he said, when the changes are submitted to him in written form.

Ross said the changes would go into effect either Jan. 2 or Jan. 9, depending on how soon final details can be worked out.

The changes call for the elimination of bus stops at Third and Main streets, Fourth and Walnut streets, Park avenue west and Walnut street, South Main and First streets, and southbound at South Main aand South Park streets.

"By eliminating these stops, which are only a short block from a stop, traffic will be speeded up considerably," Ross said.

MARK ZONES

He added that bus stop zones will be marked at other business district stops which will allow buses to pull to the curb, where they will not block the flow of traffic.

The decision to move the transfer point from Fourth and Main streets to North Park and North Main streets was based on two factors, Ross said.

1. The change was recommended by Traffic Commissioner Boals, by the company that made the survey of Mansfield's riding habits aand by Vurnon Johnson, Cleveland traffic engineer who recently surveyed the traffic problem in Mansfield.

2. The contemplated one-way street system would make a change of the transfer location to a point on the square mandatory, so it is just as well to make the shift now when the other changes are being made, Ross explained.

Under the new system, northbound runs, including West Fourth, Fairground, North Main and Reformatory, will start from North Park street, in front of the H. L. Reed store.

South, east and westbound runs, including Park avenue west, Glessner, South Main and Hedges, will start on North Main street in front of the Richland Trust company.

Actual route changes under the new system follows:

The South Main-Reformatory runs will be combined, following their present routes

ROUTES COMBINED

The North Main-Glessner runs will be combined, with the Glessner route running west on Park avenue west to Mulberry street,

GI's Widow Sentenced

MARBURG —(INS)—Mrs. Wilma Ybarbo was found guilty today of murdering her sergeant husband with "malice aforethought" and sentenced to 20 years in prison.

A precedent-setting three-man U.S. tribunal found the attractive 23-year-old mother of a six year old son guilty under both German and U.S. military government law.

The verdict followed a sensational trial in which both husband and wife were accused of leading disreputable lives prior to the fatal shooting last Sept. 21.

The shooting climaxed a bedroom brawl which followed a week-end "wild party" in the Ybarbo home. The prosecution accused Mrs Ybarbo of killing Sgt. John Ybarbo in cold blood and then boasting. "I am not sorry."

Seven Quakes Rock Reno's City Hall

RENO, NEV, —(AP)— Seven earthquakes hit Reno within four and a half hours last night—the third one causing "a good deal of jiggling" in Reno's 42-year-old city hall and bringing prompt adjournment of a city council session. There were no reports of damage.

Frank McCulloch, a reporter, said the "jiggling" shock was accompanied by a slight rumble. At least two of the earlier tremors were "relatively sharp," he reported.

True Facts Concerning Unionism Apparently Escape Our Teachers

BY CONVERSATION and correspondence with young Americans I have been convinced that most of the teachers of classes dealing with unionism in our colleges and high schools are either willful liars or ignorant gossips.

Some of the young men and women with whom I discussed the large subject of unionism some few years ago are now thoroughly adult citizens along toward thirty. They probably are still deceived by the lies or stupid superstitions which they heard when they were too young to cope with poised and glib professionals in class. The members of the present student bodies who express their puzzles to me obviously are being imposed upon with the same counterfeit of knowledge.

The teachers usually help themselves to the false assumption that anything which the students may read in the papers which disparages unionism is fascist propaganda paid for by Wall Street and or the National Association of Manufacturers.

This was the gist of President Truman's remarks about the Taft-Hartley law during the recent campaign. Inasmuch as young students are still naive and idealistic, a president who utters such falsehoods has an advantage of them. Not for fifteen or twenty years will they really understand that a candidate who claims a privilege known as "campaign oratory" actually claims a license to lie without moral responsibility.

There is only one way to get at the truth of unionism. That is by analyzing the union constitutions, clause by clause, studying the experience of men, unions and communities and comparing the political claims with the facts.

Fortunately for any student who seriously intends to rout a dishonest teacher, there are few "good" unions. Careful study of any of the big ones will discredit any pedagogue who undertakes to defend them.

I would recommend the constitutions of the Musicians Union, the Hodcarriers, the Teamsters, the Boilermakers and the United Mine Workers unions.

I suggest these because they are the gaudiest affronts to the American concept of responsible government and popular power. They spell out autocracy and the power of the union bosses to graft, persecute, abolish the electoral process by executive ruse and perpetuate themselves in office.

But there are many others and the fact that none of those which I have named is now a member of the C.I.O. is not significant. The United Mine Workers of John L. Lewis was the parent union of the C.I.O. The C.I.O. was founded with money arbitrarily taken from the miners by their executives, including Philip Murray, now the president of the C.I.O., and never repaid.

Lewis tried to collect the debt from the C.I.O. after he had pulled the mine workers out of the C.I.O. by personal decree as a political rebuff to Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1940. Lewis said it was a loan. Murray said it was a gift and refused to pay. The miners had nothing to say.

You will find that most of the teachers know very little and can be drawn into silly statements. They will say that the Wagner Act was intended to make it possible for workers to organize. Actually, the act plainly says it was intended to promote interstate commerce by minimizing the causes of labor disputes. But the result was to confer a power of taxation for political purposes on a private, irresponsible political auxiliary of the party which enacted the law.

Another result was the greatest disorder that this country has seen since the war between the states. Riot. Anarchy. Murder. Arson. Vandalism.

This is speculation, but I think that, aside from the communists, the teachers who have been imposing on the innocence and trust of young students are themselves sulky misanthropes and ignorant victims of bad teaching and superstition.

Seal Drive Still $1,312 Under Goal

Payments Urged By Fund Head

The 1949 Christmas Seal campaign ended $1,312 short of the announced $14,500 goal, Mrs. H. C. Brokaw, campaign chairman, announced today.

She said 8,251 of the 18,692 letters sent out last month have been returned and urged those who have neglected to make their seal payments to do so as soon as possible.

Returns are continuing to come in, she said. An additional $349 has been received since the official end of the campaign on Dec. 25.

Mrs. Brokaw emphasized that carrying out of the Richland County Tuberculosis association's program in 1949 depended upon the sale of seals.

"The association is confident that it can bank on the support of the people of Richland county to make possible the 1949 projects which are aimed against one of the most serious health menaces in this country.

Dramatic Rescue Saves 18

Two-Part Ship Heads For Ports

NORFOLK, Va. —(U.P.)— The coast guard cutter Cherokee, carrying 18 seamen rescued from an Argentine tanker which broke in half off the North Carolina coast, was expected to reach here some time late today.

The Cherokee had the stern section of the shattered tanker "El Capitan" in tow, coast guard officers said, and was making only two knots as it wallowed through still-seething seas toward its home port.

The other half of the tanker, in tow of the tug Stern, resumed its original course and was heading for Baltimore.

Five crewmen from the cutter Agassiz rowed a half-mile through surging waves yesterday to take two Argentine sailors off the drifting stern. Miguel Angel Acceeff and Heriverto Serrano, the sailors, said they had prayed all through the wintry day and night, knowing sooner or later the cutter would find them.

Earlier, the Cherokee's men took the captain's 16 other crewmen off the bow section, and headed southward to begin an all night search with the Aggassiz. After Acceeff and Serrano were rescued, the two cutters rendezvoused at sea and the seamen were transferred to the Cherokee.

Jones Infant Dies at Home

Robert Henry Jones, 15-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Jones, 540 Lily street, died at his home at 6 a. m. today after an illness of eight months.

The child was born in Mansfield, Sept. 1, 1947.

Surviving, besides the parents, are his grandmothers, Mrs. Lillian Jones and Mrs. Frances Grace, both of Mansfield; great grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George Jones and several aunts and uncles.

Services will be held at the Geiger funeral home at 2 p. m. Thursday, in charge of Rev. F. D. Barnes, pastor of the Mitchell Chapel, AME. Burial will be in the Mansfield cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home until time for services.

Mansfield Native Heads Firm at 91

By NITA BRANSON

The name of Mrs. Rose Markward Knox has been added to the list of native Mansfielders who "made good" in a big way. This week's issue of Collier's carries a story of the 91-year-old head of the Knox Gelatine company of Johnstown, N. Y., who left Mansfield many years ago.

Rose Markward Knox was born here in 1857 but left with her family as a young girl for the East. Mrs. Mary Cairns, 98, Mansfield's oldest resident, remembers the name of Markward but does not recall having met the now famous Mrs. Knox, although she was seven years her senior.

When the Markwards went to Gloversville, N. Y., according to Collier's, Rose went to work in the glove factory. It was while working there that she met at a dance one night, the dashing young employe, Charles Knox.

Their marriage followed, although at the time, the young husband had only $11 in his pocket and train tickets to New York City. But Rose Markward Knox was a thrifty young wife and as later events were to prove, one with an exceptionally wise and business-like head on her young shoulders.

She helped her young husband save $5,000 and it was that $5,000 which started the gelatine business, today a million dollar concern. That was in 1890. Charles Knox continued as head of the business and during that time won for himself a reputation as a daring and fantastic advertiser, according to Collier's.

In 1908, however, Mrs. Knox, then the mother of two school boys, was "jolted out of a serene domestic life," by the death of her husband. In an age when women's place was considered to be purely in the home, Collier's says Mrs. Knox took over the business, fired some of her husband's assistants and started making the business one which women would enjoy hearing about.

HELD REINS

Until two years ago when arthritis forced her to remain at home, she held the reins in her two capable hands. Now her son James is president of the concern, although he admits he "doesn't pretend to be filling his mother's shoes."

"Nobody will ever really fill them," Collier's reports him as saying. "She is a real business genius and they don't come along very often."

However, Mrs. Knox continues to keep her arthritic fingers in the business pie. At her big-topped desk she dictates to her secretary and answers all her mail, most of which comes from women who continue to ask her advice.

About 25 years ago this reporter, then a staff member of the old Mansfield News, interviewed Mrs. Knox at the Westbrook Country club. That interview is almost as vivid today as it was then, chiefly because Mrs. Knox's charming, attractive personality is one not easily forgotten. Adding to the impressiveness of the talk was probably the dozen American Beauty roses which followed as a gift after the interview.

She was a remarkable person then in her 60s. Attractively gowned, she wore, I remember, a gorgeous pair of diamond earrings in an age when earrings were not so prevalently worn as today. Yet they suited her personality to a T.

Mrs. Knox was a gracious woman then and according to Collier's has lost none of that alert, graciousness even now at 91.

ENTERTAINS KIDDIES

Conrad M. McClurg, seaman, son of Mrs. Mary McClurg, 340 Muth road, is planning to help entertain 150 underprivileged children from the Virginia House Settlement in Plymouth, England, aboard the USS heavy cruiser Columbus next Monday. Seaman McClurg participated in a Christmas day celebration during which 100 English war orphans from Plymouth were entertained aboard the cruiser.

The Jan. 3 party has been planned by Capt. John M. Will, commanding officer of the Columbus. Wives and children of officers and men of the cruiser, living in Plymouth, will share in the celebration. The Christmas party was planned in cooperation with the Lord Mayor of Plymouth and the children ranged in age from seven to nine. They were escorted about the ship by 100 sailors who acted as big brothers. Santa arrived in a helicopter and distributed candy, fruit, a zipper jacket for each boy and a blouse for each girl, plus her choice of a sweater.

Office Handles 4,425 Parcels

Postal employes were back to their regular routine today after handling a record Christmas mailing rush.

Acting Postmaster Curtis L. Ford said total mail cancellations for the 12 days preceding Christmas were 1,527,154, representing an increase of 288,603 over business for the corresponding period last year.

During the 12-day rush period this year 200,060 more stamps were sold than during the same period last year.

Value of stamps sold during the period this year was $5,157 more than last year and total receipts for the period were $6,912 more than last year.

4,425 PARCELS

The post office delivered 4,425 parcels in the city and on rural and mounted routes during the Christmas rush period.

Although no deliveries were made of incoming mail, except special deliveries and perishables, on Christmas, Ford said that Mansfielders still were mailing Christmas cards at 10 p. m. Christmas eve.

All equipment was removed from the Armory Friday and extra equipment has been moved out of the mailing room at the post office.

550 Skaters Take to Ice At Two Parks

More than 550 persons took to the ice at Liberty and North Lake parks last night, Frank Burton, park superintendent, said today.

He termed the evening a success and said many youngsters were trying out their new Christmas skates.

"The ice was in good condition last night," Burton said. "We're going to scrape it again today, and the lights will be on for skating from 6:30 to 10 p. m., providing that today's thaw doesn't make the ice unsafe."

Burton specifically asked skaters to remain away from the spots marked "keep off." He said that those spots are dangerous and if skated on will make the ice very rough when the slush freezes over.

Dairymen Meet Tuesday

A meeting of Richland county dairy farmers to discuss herd health has been scheduled for next Tuesday in the Common Pleas courtroom, County C. N. McGrew announced today.

C. L. Blackman, dairy husbandman from the state extension department, will discuss dairy cattle diseases. Ralph VanBuren, of the Northern Ohio Breeders association, will discuss problems and progress of breeding programs.

Other meetings to discuss various phases of dairying are to be held during the winter, McGrew said. Some of the subjects to be covered are soil and water management of pastures, milking methods, and dairy barn arrangement.

Mrs. Darling Dies At Perrysville

PERRYSVILLE — Mrs. Nora Darling, 74, widow of Otto Darling, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Clugh Taylor, near Newville, at 10:30 a. m. today following a lingering illness.

Mrs. Darling was born April 10, 1874 and lived at Pleasant Hill until coming to Perrysville two years ago.

She was a member of St. John's Lutheran church of Perrysville.

In addition to the daughter at whose home she died, she is survived by another daughter, Miss Gladys Darling of Perrysville; three sisters, Mrs. Anna Forbes of Perrysville; Mrs. Mary Staunton of Butler, and Mrs. Agnes Pifer of Mansfield; two brothers, Robert Shumacher of Mansfield, and Lloyd Shumacher of Dayton; and two grandsons.

Rev. George M. Schrack, pastor of St. John's Lutheran church, Perrysville, will conduct funeral services at the church at 2 p. m. Thursday. Burial will be in Bunker Hill cemetery.

Friends may call at the Byerly funeral home in Lucas until noon Thursday.

Defense Department Mistaken In Evaluation of the Hopley Bill

The Defense Dept. in Washington is sending letters to Americans saying that "there is not a word or line (in the Hopley Report) which could give people alarm." . . . This is a flat misstatement! . . . We urge all of you to send for the Civil Defense Plan (the Hopley thing) and see for yourselves. . . . Send $1 to the Gov't Printing Office, Washington—and see what some men in the Defense Dept. are planning—with your liberties.

They are planning (among other things) concentration camps in the U. S. . . . Gen. Clay in Berlin said an American abroad leaves his Constitution behind. . . . This is to inform the Dept. of Defense that the only time an American leaves the Constitution behind is when they lower him into his grave.

Will the sponsors of "Stop the Music" please withdraw Gen. Wainwright's sword from its list of prizes? Numerous letters have come to this desk from vets who suffered and bled with the General at Bataan and Corregidor. . . They point out that not American General ever got back his sword—given in surrender. And that if it is to be given away—let it go to West Point or the White House. We agree.

Better, perhaps, is urging the winner to give it back to the General, who donated it to be a good Joe. After some fast-talker got him to give it up. . . . The radio people should never forget that it took the whole Jap army to take that sword from the General and all our Armed Forces to get it back.

Hmf. Let's hope they never try to raffle off The Liberty Bell!

Have a contrast: A film star broke her $3,500 per week contract rather than go to New York to publicize one of her pictures. The same day that yarn broke in the papers — the front pages reported that Bob Hope and other stars were flying to Germany to stage a Christmas show for our troops there—gratis.

Now the newsmags are reporting the skid in fur prices. When we reported it weeks ago the fur industry wailed and wailed and denied and denied. Even told my editor on me, by heck. He gave them all that well-known Look of his.

From the Headlines: "Krivitsky Slain by Reds in 1941, Chambers Says". . . From this col'm of Feb. 17, 1941: "New Yorkers Are Talking About: How only two months ago Gen. Krivitsky (reentering the U. S. via Canada after a year's wait for permission) sang lustily to his wife and child as they crossed the border. And how chums now say: 'Why a man so happy two months ago should kill himself, we can't understand.'"

Wildlife Group Gets Flood Of Trees For Game Shelters

Proof that Mansfielders are interested in wildlife conservation work came today when Jim Burkhart, president of the county fish and game association, reported the group swamped with Christmas trees.

The trees, to be used in building wildlife food shelters on the association's game refuge and elsewhere in the county, have been donated by dealers who had more than the public could use and other persons who have discarded trees in their homes.

This morning Burkhart reported that more than 2,000 trees had been donated, and calls are still pouring in. Now he's seeking a way to stem the flood.

"We're certainly grateful for the response," he said, adding, "but now we're up to our necks in trees."

Members of Boy Scoup Troop 5, at Hedges school, have arranged for several shelters to be built in woods in the Hedges district and are assisting the wildlife group.

Komito's 5 Trips Penn In 2nd Tilt

The City A basketball loop was back in its old confused status today despite the fact that Ohio Sport Center still held a thread's grip on first place.

Urschel Insurance, a team that had been a big disappointment in early games, was in the hero's role last night. The Insurancemen smashed Sport Center, 44-30, to reduce its lead to a half game.

And even that half-game margin will disappear come Thursday night. Sport Center holds a bye while Martin Hardware and Rogers Jewelry, now tied for second place, clash for the honor of moving onto the top rung. Meanwhile Urschel's, the pre-season favorite, remains only one game off the pace.

WINS THIRD STRAIGHT

In the second game of last night's abbreviated A league card, Komito's Clothes won its third game and moved into fifth place with a 42-28 triumph over Penn Auto-Sporting Goods. Komito's had lost its first four starts.

Scoring honors for the night went to Bob Nikolaus of Urschel Insurance who ripped the cords for 24 points. Ken Krupp of Penn Auto had 16 and Don Hardy of Komito's and Ed Vanderbilt of Sport Center 12 each. Vanderbilt is leading the loop with 90 points.

Heavy Blows Strike Four From Unbeaten Cage List

NEW YORK—(AP)—College basketball's thinning ranks of unbeaten teams reeled today under the heaviest single blow of the young campaign.

Four quintets were swept from the perfect list—Washington State, Canisius, Indiana and Purdue.

This left only 18 major teams still without a blemish. Of these, seven had to survive tough tests last night.

Outfits managing to carry on without a setback were Bradley, Stanford, La Salle of Philadelphia, Western Kentucky, Duquesne, Lawrnece Tech and Alabama.

The season's longest winning string was snapped when Washington State, which had scored ten straight victories, was tripped by UCLA, 54-44, in the Pacific Coast conference tournament at San Francisco.

BIGGEST WINNER

Bradley thus became the nation's biggest winner, achieving No. 10 in a row at the expense of St. Mary's of California, 69-58.

Canisius, which had won six, was toppled by Western Kentucky at Buffalo, N Y., 65-55, giving the Blue Grass boys their seventh triumph without reversal.

Indiana bowed to Butler, 64-55, and Purdue lost to Notre Dame, 51-50, on Leo Barnhorst's free throw in the last ten seconds in a doubleheader at Indianapolis.

Stanford's Indians won their ninth straight by humbling Oregon, 70-62, in the PCC tournament.

The PCC tournament also saw California trounce Washington, the defending conference champions, 73-49, and Southern California upset Oregon State, 60-40.

La Salle and Lawrence Tech of Detroit jointed Western Kentucky as teams that now have lined up seven straight victories.

La Salle had to overcome a 13-point deficit to whip Louisville, 76-71, at Convention hall in Philadelphia. Utah won the first game of this show, beating St. Joseph's of Philadelphia, 78-54.

Lawrence Tech won over Colorado State, 45-43. Duquesne took its fourth by conquering Rutgers, 53-43.

BEATS FAVORITES

Alabama, winning No. 5, upset a favored Southern Methodist university, 52-39, in the all college tournament at Oklahoma City.

In other tournament games, the Oklahoma Aggies opened defense of their title by overpowering Texas Tech, 47-26; Baylor toppled Auburn, 59-44, and Texas turned back Colorado A. and M., 56-47.

Defending champion Kansas State won its first game in the Big Seven conference meet, defeating Nebraska, 48-34. Iowa State was also a victor, ousting specially invited Harvard, 56-54.

Hogan Top Money Winner In Golf Meets

CHICAGO —(AP)— Ben Hogan, golf's man of the year, was officially tabbed by the PGA today as 1948's leading money winner, Vardon trophy winner and leader of the Ryder cup listings.

Hogan was credited with a certified total of $32,112 in tournament earnings. Lloyd Mangrum was second with $31,289.99 after racing Hogan down to the final tourney, the Miami open.

Mangrum, however, was the biggest over-all winner with $45,989.32 after grabbing $14,608.33 in competition not sponsored by the PGA. Hogan captured only $4,700 in unofficial competition.

WINS TROPHY

Hogan won the Vardon trophy with an average of 69 30 strokes per round in 76 rounds. Clayton Heafner of Charlotte, N. C., was second with a 70.43 standard. Mangrum averaged 69.97 and Jimmy Demaret of Ojai, Calif., notched 70.01 but both were ineligible after being disqualified for picking up in tournament play.

Hogan topped the Ryder cup listings with 916 points followed by Mangrum with 701 and Demaret with 615.

Other leading money winners listed by PGA were Jimmy Demaret, Ojai, Cal., $26,074 99; Bobby Locke, South Africa, $23,468, and Skip Alexander, Lexington, N. C., $18,998 43.

Three Y Church Games Scheduled

First Methodist, undefeated leaders of the Senior Church league, will meet winless United Brethren in the 7 p. m. opening game of tonight's three-game session.

Park Avenue Baptist is scheduled to go against Ontario Community in the second game with St. Matthew's taking on Lucas Lutheran in the finale.

Four Contests Open Play In 'Y' Tourney

Four games yesterday opened competition in the annual junior independent basketball tournament at the YMCA.

Miracles rolled up the biggest score by romping over the Nameless quintet, 50 to 5. Erich had 18 points for the winners.

In the other contests, South End Tigers won over Frank's Grocery, 33 to 15. Saints defeated the Pushovers, 38 to 28 and the Bulldogs topped Sutter's, 33 to 21. Crouse of the Tigers had 13 tallies.

Ezzard Charles Now Anxious To Fight Joe Louis

NEW YORK—(AP)—Like Joe Louis, Ezzard Charles has changed his mind. The negro contender from Cincinnati now is anxious to fight the Brown Bomber for the heavyweight title in June.

So said Jake Mintz, manager of Charles, when he arrived in town to consult with Harry Markson, managing director of the 20th Century Sporting club.

Shortly after he stopped Joe Baksi here Dec. 10, Charles evinced no desire to take on the champ. But Mintz says that Ezzard is eager now to get in there with Louis.

"Charles still thinks the champion is a great guy," Mintz said. "But like he told me, 'I'm a man and that hero worship stuff will have to be sidetracked. I want the title and I'd like to fight Louis for it in June'."

Two Colleges Fall To First Defeats

(By Associated Press)

Mount Union and Muskingum dropped from the ranks of undefeated Ohio college basketball quintets last night.

Kent State stopped the Muskies, 69-56, in the opening game of the Youngstown institutional tournament and the host school eliminated Mount Union, 57-50, in the second. Muskingum was defending campion.

The two winners meet tonight for the title after the losers play for consolation honors. Kent has won five of six; Youngstown four of six.

Will Concocts 639 In Club Pin Loop

A comparatively unknown bowler—Jim Will—eased his name ahead of all the "regulars" with a 639 series in the Club league last night at Colony.

Will, rolling with the American Legion team, put together games of 211, 195 and 233 to lead the city's bowling army. His nearest competitor in the Club league was the always-tough Bob Lynch who turned in 180-215-171—566.

Garrison of the Schoolmasters and R. Taylor of the Legion were next in line with totals of 562. Pete Mayer of the Lions had 553 and after that scores dropped all the way to 542's by C. Heaton of Amima and Rex of Lumberman's.

The Schoolmaster's tightened their grip on first place by taking two out of three games from second place Optimists. Schoolmasters now hold a two game lead.

★

John Klish of Tinkey Lumber pounded out a 195-214-210—619 in the Commercial C league to be the only other man to go over the honor roll mark.

Emmett McIntire had the best single game, a 246 while rolling with Urschel Insurance. His 591 series was only one pin behind Bill Black jr., who was league runner-up with 592. F. Kearns posted 157-188-243—588 to follow while good scores included:

Charles Bauer, 569; Al Baki, 565; Lou Tridico, 546; and Paul Jewell, 541.

Urschel Insurance moved still farther out in front of the pack as it won two of three from Montgomery Ward while second place Local 17 dropped two of three to Mansfield Tire. Urschel's is now four games ahead.

★

Mitsch's Corner Store vaulted over National Cash Register and into the lead in the Women's Variety league with a two out of three victory over Pendleton's Market. NCR had been tied with Mitsch's but lost two games to Waldman's Meats.

Individual honors in the league went to Peg Shoup of Schumaker Drugs who fired a fine 185-212-178—575. Arlene Peters of Wilson Auto Sales was runnerup but far behind with a 527 series. Florence Handwork had 520, followed by Donna Schuster, 499, and Marty Dye, 485.

★

Individual honors in the Gorman-Rupp league were taken by Cliff Penrose with 162-168-186—516. W. Cykajlo was second with a 168-175-172—515. Trailing were Paul Barnes, 501 and E. Turner, 499. Bob Horvath had the top single game of 196.

★

League-leading Charm Fashions lost three straight to Vets Cabs in the Richland Handicap C league. News-Journal No. 1 and Nickles Bakery recorded over sweeps in the loop.

Gene Rudolph of Charm Fashions was the top individual with 182-189-155—526 while Don Miller of N-J No. 2 was second with 168-141-204—513. Other top scores follow: J. Brokaw, Bakery, 510; R. L. Nelson, Vets, 509 and K. Beam, Fashions, 504.

★

Three bowlers tied for first place in the Mansfield Tire Women's league. M. Danals had 108-179-124—411, Helen Hazen, 128-135-148—411 and Verda Barr, 131-114-166—411. Virginia Bays was fourth with 400.

Tire's Court Lead Cut to Half Contest

Westinghouse moved to within a half-game of league-leading Mansfield Tire in the American B league session at Senior high school last night. The Tire team was idle.

The Westinghouse team tacked up its fourth straight victory by a 38-33 score over Ideal Electric. Ideal led through most of the game but in the closing minutes, the fast-breaking Westinghouse offense ran wild.

Main Cigar Store also came from behind to nose out Ideal Billiards, 32-28, in the second game of the card. Reese Optical trounced Shorty's News, 40-27, in the other contest.

Bob Meeker of Reese Optical dropped in 20 points to tie for the league scoring lead with Bob Sands of Westinghouse. Sands collected 12 to bring the total of both men to 67 points for the season.

The Richland County Fox Hunters will meet at 8 p. m. today in the jury room of the county courthouse, President Harold Snyder announced.

Snyder said the group will make plans for its first hunt to be held Saturday.

Ohio State Cagers Get 5th Victory

DENVER, Colo.—(INS)—Ohio State's powerful basketball quintet headed happily for home today after closing a triumphant holiday tour last night with a 66 to 57 win over Denver.

The Bucks, coached by the diminutive former OSU football star, Tippy Dye, have lost only one game in their six starts this season. That one came on their swing through the West when the Bucks fell 64-55 to the Oklahoma Sooners in an overtime session.

In downing Denver last night, Ohio State was up against one of the greatest stars of the game today — Vince "Bullets" Boryla, who played for America in the Olympics.

TOUGH TRIUMPHS

Earlier on the westward trek, the Buckeyes took hard-fought battles from the California Bears twice by scores of 74-60 and 68-64.

The Ohio Staters got off to a good start when they racked up 60-48 and 72-47 wins over Butler and Marquette on their home Columbus floor.

State beat Denver (won 2—lost 8) in the last three minutes as Forwards Dick Schnittker and Bob Donham broke up a skin-tight game. With five and a half minutes to play, Denver had a 50-46 lead. Ohio State then went ahead 52-50 before Denver tied it at 52-all. It was there that Schnittker, who finished with 25 points, and Donham, who racked up 18, took command.

Browns Sign Cannavino

CLEVELAND—(AP)—Ohio State halfback Mike Cannavino, 23-year-old Clevelander, has signed to play professional football with the Cleveland Browns, the club announced today.

Cannavino was the Browns' seventh choice in the all-America football conference draft last week. Injuries kept him out of action most of the past season at Ohio State.

A standout defensive player, Cannavino weighs 175 pounds and was used by the Buckeyes in 1946 as their first string defensive quarterback. In 1947 he was moved to left halfback and against Michigan that year was Ohio's leading ground-gainer.

CLEMSON, S. C., —(AP)—The undefeated Clemson Tigers, who rolled over 10 opponents this fall, were scheduled to fly to Jacksonville, Fla., today for their Gator bowl meeting with Missouri on Jan. 1.

Worry About Battle of Mud

By BOB MYERS

PASADENA Calif (AP) The two Rose Bowl coaches are going to be unhappy if the tournament of roses sunshine luck runs out New Year's day.

A long range forecast has not been issued as yet but amateur predicters, watching the rain pelt southern California yesterday, began to worry that the California-Northwestern contest may be a battle of the mud.

Both coaches Bob Voigts of Northwestern and Lynn Waldorf of the California Bears are on record as praying for clear skies and a fast field.

"This is a big game and rain and mud will simply ruin it for the players and the spectators. It will just be tough luck if it does come up bad weather," said Voigts. The same sentiments came from Pappy Waldorf.

The Wildcats did not play a single game in the mud this season. They have practiced several times in the muck, however—including yesterday.

The Rose Bowl for years has enjoyed amazing luck in the weather line. Actually, the last time it let loose from above was the year of the big flood. It is also well remembered for Columbia's 7-0 upset via the ancient hidden ball trick over a heavily favored Stanford eleven.

It poured by the tons the night before, fire department pumps were employed to help drain the water off the field, and it rained during the contest. Strong young men charged $1 to carry ladies through the mud from their cars to the stadium, and the place was further inundated at the final gun by the burst of Stanford tears. Also Coach Lou Little may have added a few tears of his own, caused from excessive laughing up his sleeve.

Senior High Goes In Lima Cage Carnival

Tygers Play McClain and Central 5's

A fast-improving Mansfield Senior high basketball squad of 11 players will compete in the fourth annual basketball carnival tomorrow and Thursday at the Lima South gym.

Mansfield battles Greenfield McClain in the opener Wednesday at 7:30 and goes against Lima Central in the second game Thursday at 8:45. Findlay's state champions are the fourth team in the affair.

The Tygers have been looking better in each practice session and their ball-handling is beginning to show a mid-season snap. After yesterday's pair of drills, Coach Vern Hoffman remarked, "The kids are looking better. They have more confidence in their ability."

SCRIMMAGE GRANDVIEW

Hoffman put his charges through a long shooting and defensive session yesterday morning and then brought them back for an hour scrimmage in the afternoon. The Tygers went against the Columbus Grandview team coached by former Senior high star Billy Doolittle.

Both coaches stopped the scrimmage several times to correct mistakes but the Tygers put on a late surge to come out ahead, 60 to 47. Hoffman and Doolittle used every player on their rosters.

Another tough session came off this morning and it wound up practice until school resumes next Monday. Coach Fred Staub's sophs scrimmaged John Simpson at 8:30 with the varsity taking the floor at 10. Then a bit before noon, the varsity seconds went against Johnny Appleseed.

PUT ON ZONES

In winning four of five games, the Tygers have concentrated on a sliding man-for-man defense. But with the games in the Lima festival coming up, Hoffman is working on a pair of zone defenses for use in the "tiny" Lima gym.

Hoffman is still using Paul Ferguson, Willie Fowler, Norb Shibinski, Jimmy Anderson and Ed Schmitt as starters with A. C. Jenkins as the No. 1 relief man. The Tyger mentor may be getting some help soon from Ken McCally, the sharp shooting soph. If things go right in the carnival, McCally will see his first varsity action at guard.

Other members of the Bengal traveling squad are Howie Tipper, Jack Bargahiser, Charles Marchant and Esker Jordan. Senior high will leave in three cars Wednesday at 1 p. m. and will stay over at the Argonne hotel in Lima.

Anderson Cager Leading Scorer In Small Schools

NEW YORK — (AP) — John Wilson of Anderson (Ind.) is averaging 26.8 points a game to lead the individual scoring parade among small college basketball players.

National Collegiate Athletic Bureau figures, including games through Dec. 18, give Wilson a slight advantage over last year's point making champion. Nate De Long of River Falls (Wis.).

Del Long has a 26-point average —one better than that owned by Silas Davis of Morehouse (Ga.) who has played only one game.

Wilson also has the best score for a single game—46 against Adrian.

Charles Tobin of St. Anselm's (N. H.) is the free throw leader with a perfect score—ten goals in ten tries for 1.000. Joe Hafele of Evansville, with 20 out of 21 for .952, is runnerup.

Ohio Wesleyan's sharpshooter, Judd Millhon, has the best field goal percentage. He has hit 38 times out of 68 attempts for a remarkable 559 average. He is followed by Tom Carlson of Washburn, with 22 out of 40 for .550.

The top defensive team among the small college quintets through the first weeks of the season is Mount Union of Ohio, which has limited opponents to an average of 35.8 points a game in four starts.

Baylor Bear Back On Bowl Honeymoon

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. — (AP) — Fullback Jerry Mangum of the Baylor Bears will be honeymooning tomorrow when his team arrives in Birmingham for the Dixie Bowl game.

He was married Sunday to Miss Carol Jack, secretary to head coach Bob Woodruff. The couple will arrive with the team and spend their brief honeymoon here.

In Mud Bowl?

EL PASO, Tex. —(U.P.)— The Texas Mines and West Virginia football teams, which have practiced in the rain for three successive days, were just about convinced today that they are preparing for a "Mud bowl" rather than a Sun bowl game Saturday.

NEW YORK—Some of the American dollars, which during the war and immediately thereafter flew like homing pigeons into promoters' coffers, found a new nesting place in 1948. This great migration from the spectators' pocket to the box office was curtailed most notably in boxing and in horse racing, which returned to approximate pre-war normalcy.

Interest in other sports boomed or sagged in response to the quality of the production; but through it all, one certainty was established: The war-time spending of the sports filberts is over. They are paying now for what they get, and shopping for the best.

The brightest of all sports gems - the Olympic games — were brought out of war-imposed hiding to provide the year's great and glittering highlight. Thrills were piled on top of thrills.

Americans acquitted themselves well in both the winter Olympics at St. Moritz and at London, and in a general way continued to dominate the sports scene abroad and at home.

GREATEST RACER

But, at the conclusion of the year, the outstanding athlete of 1948 turned out to be not a man, woman or child, but a horse—Citation.

Not only was this three-year-old unanimously acclaimed as the horse of the year in all polls, he also was held up with little dispute as perhaps the greatest American racer of all times. This hasn't happened since the heyday of the Late Man O'War.

Citation completely dominated the racing scene. He won the Triple Crown — Kentucky Derby, Preakness, and Belmont Stakes — frightened away all opposition to win the Pimlico Special in a walkover, and moved toward the ranks of mi[illegible]s.

The picture was more somber from the financial viewpoint of most tracks. Attendance and wagering fell off and some observers suggested night racing to save the points where it lagged worst.

A thrill-spattered baseball season was climaxed by dethronement of both the New York Yankees and the Brooklyn Dodgers as pennant-holders, when the Cleveland Indians won in the American League and the Boston Braves won in the National.

The Indians tied the Boston Red Sox for their flag, won it in an unprecedented one - game playoff, and then took the Braves in six games under the inspired leadership, shortstopping, and hitting of Lou Boudreau to succeed the Yankees as world champions.

BOUDREAU, MUSIAL—MVP'S

Boudreau, by virtue of his spectacular season, was voted the American League's most valuable player award by the Baseball Writers Association, and similar honors were earned in the National League by Stan Musial, the St. Louis Cardinal outfielder.

The latter led his league in hitting with an average of .376 and virtually every other offensive department, except home runs. He was runnerup to Johnny Mize and Ralph Kiner who tied at 40 homers apiece to deadlock for that honor for the second straight season.

Boudreau was runner up for hitting honors in his league to Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox, who compiled an average of .369. Joe DiMaggio, of the Yankees, took home run honors with 39.

The rookie of the year award was safely pocketed by Alvin Dark, the Braves' shortstop.

It was a tremendous year in football, both financially and artistically, despite the fact that, as usual, the two top college teams did not meet.

Michigan finally wound up with the unofficial national championship prize when Notre Dame stumbled in its final game and played a 14-14 tie with Southern California in one of the year's two major upsets.

The other was produced by all-losing Navy in a 21 to 21 tie with a presumably overwhelming and unbeaten Army team.

PRO FOOTBALL STRUGGLE

Professional football continued to struggle and scuffle by fits and starts as the All America conference fought for survival in the face of decreasing gate receipts. The National League stood aloof against a common draft and other compromises between the two circuits.

The National did not fare too well at the gate either and high payrolls produced by inter-league war sent several clubs splashing into the red ink.

The Cleveland Browns, of the all-[illegible]ace, rer. top choice as the best club in the pro business after winning two straight titles and finishing 1948 unbeaten.

The National League Eagles repeated as Eastern champions while they won in the west.

BOXING RECEIPTS OFF 50%

In boxing, receipts were off about 50 per cent and the year generally was rather dull artistically. This might be traceable to the fact that Heavyweight Champion Joe Lewis made only one defense and knocked out Jersey Joe Walcott in the 11th round of a desultory bout.

Freddie Mills, of England, outpointed Gus Lesnevich, veteran New Jersey title-holder, for the light heavy crown, and Marcel Cerdan, of France, took the middleweight championship with a knockout over Tony Zale, of Gary, Ind.

The only other title active in America to change hands was the featherweight crown won by Sandy Saddler of New York, on a knockout over Willie Pep, of Hartford, Conn.

Cleveland Brown End Announces Engagement

CLEVELAND — (U.P.) — Dante Lavelli, Cleveland Browns right end, will be married next spring to Miss Joy Wright of Brecksville, a former Denison University co-ed, it was announced today.

Lavelli, whose home is in Hudson, O., attends Ohio State university during the off season.

Santa Anita Track Starts 50-Day Whirl

ARCADIA, Calif. —(AP)— Santa Anita's handsomely bedecked merry-go-round starts a 50-day whirl today, with a field of California two-year-olds racing for a plum that may be worth $80,000.

Seventeen youngsters were entered in the California Breeders Champion stakes, a $50,000 purse swollen to the larger figure by added money.

The Boston Bruins have competed in the National Hockey League for 25 years. They were the first American team in the circuit.

Some folks wonder how we do it!

And well they may, when they read what's happening to the railroads.

Since 1939 everything the railroads use has gone up nearly 100%.
In the meantime, freight rates have increased only 44%;
passenger fares even less — about 25%.

How do the railroads do it?

By the wise use of profits and investment—the basis for all progress in America!

In the 30 years since the First World War, the railroads have invested more than 2 dollars in new equipment and improvements, for every 1 dollar paid out to their owners in dividends. As a result, the railroads have kept costs down and do a better job all around. That means a saving for the manufacturer, the supplier and, of course, you, the public.

But that kind of progress can't go on if earnings today are kept too low.

Like other companies, the railroads need a fair profit for the service they perform —because profits provide the money for greater improvements and efficiency. These in turn lead to lower costs not only for those using the railroads, but for everybody! Good as the railroad record has been, it can be even better in the future—but only if railroad incomes are allowed to keep pace with the rising costs of operation. For, remember:

GOOD EARNINGS TODAY
MEAN BETTER SERVICE TOMORROW

Seek Attacker Of Young Girl

CLEVELAND — (INS) — Cleveland police reported today that a young southeast side woman was beaten at her apartment early today by a man answering the description of the murder suspect in the sex-slaying of Mrs. Helen Takacy, Nov. 16.

Police said the victim of the attack, Miss Francis Bernstein, 24, was grabbed by the wrist and punched to the floor when she answered a knock at her door.

Her screams aroused neighbors in the suites above, police reported, and the assailant fled.

Rail Wreck Injures Six

GARY, Ind. —(U.P.)— A Chicago, South Shore and South Bend passenger train ploughed into two standing gondola cars early today, injuring six persons.

The chief dispatcher's office at Michigan City, Ind., said it understood that none of the injured was in serious condition.

The South Shore railroad is an electrified interurban route running around Lake Michigan from Chicago to South Bend.

Air Cadets Get Tests In City

Men in this area who are interested in the U. S. Air Force's aviation cadet procurement program need no longer go to Columbus or Dayton to take their entrance examinations announced the recruiting office here today.

Lt. F. R. Gerald from Fort Hayes, Columbus, has been assigned to come to Mansfield to give candidates their examinations. Tests will be given here on appointment only, Capt. Robert L. Pine explained.

A new Air Force ruling permits married men to enlist in the Cadet program, Capt. Pine announced.

Cost of Living Bonus Continues

SPRINGFIELD —(AP)— City workers will continue to receive a cost of living bonus until Feb. 28 or until salaries can be raised permanently, the city commission announced last night.

The cost of living payments were due to expire Dec. 31. Nonclerical workers received $45 a month extra, clerks $30 a month, police and firemen $15, and hourly workers five cents an hour.

NO ONE KNOWS YET how this cinnamon bear got aboard the Swarthmore Victory, freighter that brought a load of animals from Asia for American zoos. More than three weeks after the ship docked in San Francisco, he was found wedged behind machinery in the hold. He was not on the list of immigrant animals and authorities have been unable to explain how he got aboard or why he was not discovered sooner by crew members.—(International)

Policy Strife Again Starts

CLEVELAND —(AP)— A would-be assassin fired a shotgun blast from a speeding auto early today, wounding Mathew (Peaches) Johnson as he was opening the street door of an east side apartment building.

"This is policy, I guess," Johnson told Detective Edward Murray at Charity hospital. Physicians said he was in danger of losing his right hand.

Johnson, 27, is the nephew of Buster Mathews, a man long listed by Cleveland police as a top figure in the numbers (policy) racket.

Gets Child Welfare Post

The county commissioners yesterday appointed Mrs. Elsie C. Kelley, of Shelby, to a four-year term as member of the county child welfare board.

Mrs. Kelley will replace Mrs. Emma Young who is retiring from the board Dec. 31 after 20 years of service.

The commissioners also passed a resolution to send a letter of commendation and appreciation to Mrs. Young for her long and unselfish service as a member of the Children's Home and the child welfare boards.

Exposure Fatal In Fuel Search

YOUNGSTOWN —(INS)— Exposure to cold weather while in search of fuel was blamed today for the death of Andrew Landolt, 66, of Youngstown.

Landolt's body was found near the Youngstown and Southern railroad tracks yesterday by a railroad conductor. A wheelbarrow loaded with coal was found near the body.

Higher Milk Prices Loom For Cleveland

CLEVELAND —(INS)— An increase in the price of retail milk in Cleveland seemed imminent today following issuance of an order providing for a 33.3 cent boost per hundredweight in the minimum price of fluid milk to producers.

The order, issued by Milk Market Administrator Howard G. Eisaman, probably will become effective Jan. 1 through February, subject to a vote of the producers.

Structural Strike Halts Bridge Work

YOUNGSTOWN —(AP)— A district wildcat strike of structural iron workers forced a halt in construction of retaining walls and abutments on Youngstown's $2,000,000 spring common bridge across the Mahoning river yesterday.

Some 600 iron workers struck 11 days ago to support demands for a 25 cent hourly wage increase. Union officials said the strike was not authorized.

COMMITS SUICIDE

UHRICHSVILLE —(AP)— Mrs. Wilbert Anderson, 45, shot and killed herself yesterday. Coroner D. M. Ceramilla said, because she believed she lost $75. Her husband, who is disabled and has been unable to work for two years, found the money in a clothes closet later, the coroner said.

STRANGLES TO DEATH

PAINESVILLE —(AP)— Martin D. Larsen, 59, found dead at the bottom of some steps with his head caught in a railing Christmas day, died from strangulation, Lake County Coroner W. R. Carle ruled yesterday.

"SHUCKS"
Who Said Shucks?

Why the whole family said SHUCKS — WHY? Because they had just received notice to vacate that the property had been sold. The kids like their school. Mom likes the neighbors, but now we have to get out and WHERE are we going? That's really bad so why not put a stop to all this trouble and BUY THAT HOME FOR THE FAMILY. HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Red Troops Pour Into Central China; New Drive Expected

See Yangtze River Next Red Target

Peace Rumors Still Spreading

NANKING —(INS)—An estimated 160,000 battle-hardened communist troops were streaming into central China from the north today to join in an expected January offensive aimed at Nanking and Shanghai.

The reinforcements were pouring south amid a new upsurge of peace rumors circulated in the face of official nationalist denials.

"A "surprise truce" was discussed by observers as a possibility while eight communist armies—each estimated to total 20,000 officers and men—were augmenting the Red forces pressing down toward the lower Yangtze river.

These fresh armies, composed of veterans who participated in the communist conquest of rich Manchuria, were part of 15 Red columns sent into China proper by the communist northern commander, Gen. Lin Piao.

Three of Lin's armies are narrowing a steel ring around the north China rail-communications center of Tientsin. Four others are drawing gradually tighter a noose forged around the ancient imperial capital of Peiping, 65 miles northwest of Tientsin.

The other eight northern communist armies sent out of Manchuria are by-passing beleagured Tientsin and Peiping to continue southward to the east central front.

They were reported moving down the Peiping-Hankow railroad. Once this movement is completed and the reinforcements are merged with the Red forces already on the central front, the communists are expected to unleash a final drive to reach and cross the Yangtze.

Nationalist sources said they anticipated the big Red push would be launched next month. Both Nanking and Shanghai lie on the southern side of the wide Yangtze.

Semi-official Nanking quarters, meantime, predicted a possible truce announcement even before the climactic battle for the heart of China breaks out.

These circles attached credence to reports of behind the scenes peace talks involving certain key ministers of Premier Sun Fo's cabinet on one side and the communists on the other.

Series of Wacky Claims Hit Insurance Firm In Past Year

HARTFORD, Conn., —(UP) — The wackiest insurance claim paid off in 1948 by the Travelers Insurance company involved the firemen of a small Oregon town, officials said today.

The firemen couldn't start their truck to answer an alarm from an apartment hotel. Helpful citizens gave the truck a push to get it started while a bucket brigade kept the flame under control until the firemen arrived.

The brigade stopped work. The firemen found their hose was frozen. The citizens stamped on them to clear the lines. The firemen found they had left the hose nozzles at the station. Another citizen dashed to the station to get them.

By the time he returned two hours had elapsed since the alarm was sounded and the hotel had burned to the ground.

There were some close runners-up to that claim for the dizziest of the year.

There was the motorist who stopped his automobile and got out when he heard a thud. He was knocked down and injured by his own runaway spare-tire which had broken loose.

A 23-month-old boy swiped his father's automobile keys from a dresser, climbed into the seat, started the car and drove it into a lake where he damaged a motorboat. The boy waded ashore unhurt.

The Womens Christian Temperance union received compensation for water damage.

A swimmer's toupee was swiped by a dog. It was insured.

The company refused to write a policy for a nudist camp whose director said the members needed "coverage."

AGED MATRON DIES

CLEVELAND—(AP)—Mrs. Samuel P. Baldwin, 97, one of the city's leading philanthropists, died yesterday. She was a sister of the late U. S. Sen. Mark Hanna.

Humor In the Headlines

Ohio's Odd Happenings Pass In Review

By REX NAYLOR

COLUMBUS — (UP) — In the rush of big headline news, the average man and woman sometimes get lost in the shuffle.

But many Ohioans got their names in print during 1948—not because what they did was of earth-shaking importance but because what they did was a little unusual.

Here are a few of the things that happened to Mr. Average Ohioan in 1948.

It was a cold winter day when 49-year-old Oscar Bolin walked into Cincinnati central police station. He said he had no home and no money to rent a room, and asked for a warm place to spend the night. On the way to the lockup, he pulled a quarter from his pocket, dropped it in a March of Dimes container, and remarked, "A mighty good cause."

The life of a policeman is not what you could call a bed of roses. Take Cleveland Patrolmen Joe Novak and Eilmer Kutina, for instance. They can laugh about it now At the time it was anything but funny.

They answered a call to the home of a 65-year-old woman who told them she had heard prowlers.

"But I scared them away with an empty revolver," she announced proudly. She demonstrated by pointing the pistol at Patrolman Novak's middle Novak shied away. "Lady, don't point that gun at me. It might be loaded."

"Oh no, it's empty—see?" She pulled the trigger twice. Patrolman Kutina grabbed the revolver and broke it open. There were three shells in the cylinder. One more pull on the trigger and the gun would have gone off.

Columbus marriage license clerk George Cook suffered a bit of heart trouble this year. Miss Paris of 1947, beautiful Kay Trevil, came to this country to marry the credit manager of a local jewelry store.

While they were getting the license, Miss Paris allowed the license clerk the privilege of kissing her. The effect was so powerful that Cook hastily swallowed one of a bottle of tablets he carries to calm his heart.

A Cleveland woman, Mrs. Betty Kersten, had lived a fairly tranquil life—until the first week in August. Then her peaceful home suddenly took on the aspect of a three-ring circus.

A refrigerator repairman came to fix a break the refrigerator didn't have. A cleaning shop sent a man to pick up clothes that didn't need cleaning. A radio repairman came to fix a radio that was working perfectly.

For days, a steady stream of plumbers, decorators, doctors' ambulances and the like arrived one after the other. Some practical joker was having himself a time. One morning, at six o'clock, a policeman came to rent the house in answer to an ad in the morning paper. A few hours later a storage van pulled up to move the furniture.

"That does it," said Mrs. Kersten. "I'm not answering the phone or the door and I'm taking the kids out for the day." And she did.

At Gambier, a student at Kenyon college owed another student $6. His creditor told him, "eat a locust and I'll cancel the debt."

At the time there were millions of locusts around Gambier. The young man grabbed a couple, put them between crackers—and ate. The debt was cancelled.

A young Clevelander came out of the state reformatory after serving time for stealing a car to take his girl for a ride. Two months later he went to jail again—for stealing a car to take his girl a ride. Same crime, different car. Also a different girl.

An instructor in English composition at Ohio State university assigned his class a 300-word theme to write. One student, at a loss for words, finally wrote, "It rained yesterday, and the drops went plunk, plunk, plunk," and so on for 290 more plunks.

The instructor was equal to the occasion. Back came the paper with his comment: "Plunk, plunk, you flunk."

But it took a Cleveland woman to show that whoever said, "It's a man's world" might have been mistaken. In divorce court, the woman's husband complained that every time he forgot to kiss her in the morning, she fined him $80.

New State Farm Head Appointed

Marion Named To Cabinet

CLEVELAND — (AP) — A husky, ruddy-faced farmer who cheerfully admits he "feels more at home in overalls than a suit," today was designated state agricultural director by Gov.-Elect Frank J. Lausche.

The newest member of Lausche's cabinet is 44-year-old A. W. Marion, a one-time county agent, who owns and operates what he describes as 440 acres of "typical Ohio farmland" in Mercer county near Rockford. Marion is the son of a farmer and the grandson of a farmer.

In an interview, he said he accepted the appointment because "it offered a real challenge and opportunity to serve the agriculture of Ohio."

Marion stands six feet two inches tall, weighs 230 pounds, has iron-grey hair and — when he isn't wearing his favorite overalls — dresses conservatively in dark suits. He uses glasses when reading "because I lost my eyes poring over artillery charts in World War Two."

He was with the field artillery 15 months, commanded A Battery in Europe and was discharged a major.

The agricultural director-designate — who will succeed Republican Frank T. Farnsworth when Lausche is inaugurated Jan. 10—is a long-time advocate of soil conservation methods of farming.

"To me, farming is a trust," he said, taking a long puff on his pipe. "I want to pass my farm on in better condition than I found it. You can't simply run a farm for yourself and forget about future generations."

This type of farming Marion believes, is used by "all of Ohio's better farmers." He said he hoped to extend it to every Ohio farm during his term.

Marion, who loves to hunt and fish," also believes completely in wild-life conservation. His farm is used by the state as part of a wild-life refuge. During the recent heavy snow, Marion spent hours feeding wild pheasants, quail and partridge on his own farm.

He raises a few pure-bred shorthorn cattle as a hobby and always is experimenting with new types of grain.

He was born and reared on a farm in Pickaway county near Circleville and says "You might say I've lived in the farming tradition all my life." He married the former Ruth Macklin of Fairfield county in 1930. They have one daughter, Jane, 13.

Fire Claims One

NEW YORK, — (INS) — An unidentified man was killed and 14 others injured early today when a fire swept three floors of a four story tenement building on New York's lower east side.

1948's Best Dressed Woman Spurns Elaborate Wardrobe

NEW YORK, —(AP)— A one-time fashion editor—who stresses simplicity in dress—tops the list of the 10 best dressed women of 1948 named by the New York Dress institute.

She is Mrs. William Paley, the former Barbara Cushing Mortimer, wife of the head of the Columbia Broadcasting system. A modest young woman, Mrs. Paley detests the term "clothes horse" and buys only one or two new outfits each season.

The annual selection of best dressed women by the institute is based on a poll of 150 fashion editors and designers around the country.

Others chosen included:

Mrs. Milicent Rogers, the Duchess of Windsor, Mrs. Andre Embiricos (the former Beatrice Amidon), Mrs. Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt; Mrs. William Randolph Hearst jr. (the former Austine Cassini of Washington and New York), Mrs. Harrison Williams, the Duchess of Kent, Mme. Louis Arpels of Hollywood and Mrs. Howard Hawks of Hollywood.

Five other women, although receiving sufficient votes to rate the top 10, were placed in a special category because they are fashion designers themselves, or closely connected with the fashion industry.

They are:

Mrs. Adam Gimbel (Sophie, the dress designer), Mrs. George Schlee (Valentina, the dress designer), Gene Tierney (wife of designer Oleg Cassini), Janet Gaynor Adrian (wife of Adrian, Hollywood designer), and Mrs. John C. Wilson (the former Princess Paley, associated with Mainbocher, the designer).

Ban Ruhr Output Of Arms

LONDON — (AP) — The western powers set up today a strict international control system to bar Germany's industrial Ruhr valley from war production.

The Ruhr was ordered to produce solely for peace.

Their decision was announced in a formal communique as the climax of a six-week conference here attended by representatives of the United States, Britain, France, the Netherlands, Belgium and Luxembourg.

It contained no admission of Russia as a partner in the international control board to be known as the "Ruhr Authority."

An American spokesman told a news conference at the embassy the agreement probably will go into operation in two or three months. He said a military security board provided for in the agreement also will begin functioning within that time.

The spokesman said the Americans regard the pact as an executive agreement which will not need congressional approval, as a formal treaty would.

REICH TO VOTE

The agreement offered Germany a place on the board as soon as it develops a legal government. The Germans will have three votes—the same as the United States, Britain and France will have and two more than each of the Benelux countries which it overran in World War Two.

It set up an international system of inspection — the framework of an industrial police — to keep the Ruhr from becoming once again a war-making industrial machine as it did under Hitler aand Kaiser Wilhelm.

It left unsettled the dynamite-laden question of ultimate ownership of the Ruhr's industries — a plain concession to France.

OEA Seeking More Funds

COLUMBUS —(INS)— Delegates to the annual meeting of the Ohio Education association in Columbus today were to act on a proposed legislative program calling for an additional annual 17 million 250 thousand dollars in state aid.

Up for consideration was an annual $225 dollar cost of living increase for teachers, and a hike of $3.50 per pupil for other school operating costs.

The legislative program as recommended by the OEA executive committee also calls for a reduction of the required 65 per cent favorable majority vote on school construction bond issues and an increase in the school debt limit from six to eight per cent.

Other money demands would include 500 thousand dollars per year to help building rehabilitation in low tax-valuation districts; three and a quarter million dollars per year to buy school buses, and an undesignated amount for new building construction and to set up a school building division in the state education department.

Sentenced In Theft Case

Herschel Mitchell, of Vinton, the man who "gave up" to police by mistake, was found guilty of petit larceny and was sentenced to 30 days in the workhouse by Acting Judge James V. Will in municipal court today.

Mitchell was charged with stealing clothes and a clock with a total value of $25 from Martin Coots, 74 East Sixth street, early Christmas day.

He was apprehended by police when he walked up to Patrolman Lawrence Harper while he was talking to Coots to ask directions. Coots identified Mitchell as the thief and he was taken into custody.

William Davis jr., of Ashland, forfeited a $25 bond for crossing the yellow line; Richard A. Cooper, of Ashland, paid a fine of $5 and costs for a similar offense and Delbert J. Farst, Mansfield, R. D. 6, was fined $10 and costs for driving on more than one half of the highway.

Clash Seen In Spy Hunt

'Improvements' Cause Split

WASHINGTON — (UP) — Republican and Democratic spy hunters were split today over proposals to reform investigating methods of the House unAmerican Activities committee.

The clash was touched off when two committee Republicans — Reps. Karl E. Mundt, S. D., and Richard M. Nixon, Cal.—offered a nine-point program to improve investigating techniques and protect witnesses.

"It's utterly ridiculous," snorted Rep. John E. Rankin, D., Miss., in reply. "The rules of the committee are the rules of the House and they can't be changed without the vote of all the members of the House."

Mundt and Nixon laid down their program as recommendations for the committee in the next Congress, which will be controlled by Democrats. Mundt goes to the Senate on Jan. 3 but Nixon will remain in the House.

The two legislators said past committee practices "may have justified some honest criticism." But they warned that the group "cannot avoid making headlines" unless it keeps all its activities under strict secrecy.

Dairy, Soil Program Set For Thursday

BUCYRUS—Seven conservation specialists will discuss soil and dairy problems during an all day and evening session to be held Thursday at Holmes - Liberty school, north of here, Crawford County Agriculture Agent Russell L. Miller reported today.

Three lectures have been scheduled simultaneously, the afternoon sessions repeating the morning lectures, thereby enabling the farmers in attendance to attend two of the three programs scheduled for each group.

Anti-Reds Win In UE

PITTSBURGH —(AP)— Rank and File party candidates, who referred to their ticket as an "anti - communist slate" today swept the elections at big Local 601, CIO-United Electrical Workers.

The union, completing a vote tabulation among employes of the Westinghouse Electric corporation who made up the 16,500 member local, announced President Thomas J. Fitzpatrick of the local's Progressive party had been defeated by Phil Conahan by a vote of 8,324 to 5,215.

Seven other Rank and File candidates also were elected.

Mild Holiday Week Forecast

There's no severe cold in sight until after the New Year holiday, the weatherman said today.

Cloudy and milder weather with occasional rain was forecast for tonight and tomorrow. The mercury is due to drop tomorrow night, possibly bringing some snow.

The low reading in Mansfield this morning was 22. The mercury had climbed above freezing by noon.

The forecast for the remainder of the week follows:

Temperatures will average near normal to about three degrees above normal. Normal maximum 32. Normal minimum 15. No major changes in temperatures until colder Sunday. Precipitation about ½ inch, occurring as rain or snow Wednesday and Thursday and again Saturday and Sunday.

Galion Power Injunction Hearing Taken From Court

BUCYRUS —(UP)— Crawford county Common Pleas Judge C. U. Ahl said today a hearing on a temporary injunction granted in the Galion municipal power controversy had been removed from court assignment by mutual agreement of counsel.

The temporary injunction preventing Ohio Public Service company from furnishing two Galion industries power was granted last month by Judge Ahl.

Galion City Solicitor George Davis said, meanwhile, he may file a mandamus action compelling the city to act on referendum petitions filed with Mayor H. H. Hartmann. The petitions seek a city-wide vote on the controversial ordinance which granted Ohio Public Service a franchise to supplement the city-owned plant.

The ordinance was passed over Mayor Hartmann's veto.

Galion Fires' Loss Slight

GALION — Small damage resulted when Galion firemen responded to three calls over the Christmas holidays.

First call at 5:10 p. m., Saturday, was to the residence of William Fox jr., at 510 South Market street. An overheated stove in the home was believed to have caused the blaze which burned a small hole in the floor near the stove on the first floor. The home is owned by Dr. Malcolm Switzer.

Later in the evening, firemen were called to the home of Paul Gillette, 606 Grove avenue, where a chimney burned out and caused small damage. The home is owned by W. D. Richardson.

Only a window and a small part of the siding were burned in a fire at the Galion Body Works on South Washington street at 3 a. m., Sunday. A short circuit was believed to have caused the blaze which was discovered by the owner, Charles Mortimer.

'Sandilator' Available For Flxible Coaches

LOUDONVILLE — A device known as a "Sandilator," which spreads grit on icy highways permitting busses to get traction now is available for installation on Flxible coaches.

The unit includes a tank and two funnel projectors which are so placed they will deposit granite grit on the road surface just in front of each rear wheel. There is a red "tell light" which remains on when the valve is open, and goes off when it is closed.

NEWSPAPERARCHIVE®

Mansfield News-Journal

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

PAGE FOUR MANSFIELD, OHIO, TUESDAY, DECEMBER 28, 1948

You'll have to hurry, if any 1948 task has not yet been completed.

And with all those unsold Christmas trees, it's sad to think that a tree was missing from some homes because parents couldn't afford to buy one.

According to the census bureau, the average family in the U. S. now consists of 3.6 persons—and you can figure out that fraction for yourself.

Holiday Fatalities Above Forecast

A LOOK at the record of deaths that resulted from traffic accidents and fires over the Christmas week-end causes wonder as to what a startling total those figures might have reached had it not been for constant emphasis on traffic safety and the extreme of precautions against use of inflammable Christmas trees and decorations.

Even with all the carefulness that was urged—and sometimes compelled—fatalities over the nation approached the 450 mark, with traffic accidents held responsible for 270 and fires 72.

When it is further considered that thousands of others were injured—many seriously—the price in lives and suffering seems a heavy one to pay in association with a holiday dedicated to peace and happiness.

It is noted, also, that young children made up a majority of the victims of fires, which is a dreadful thought in connection with observance of Christmas, which is so largely given to brightening the lives of children.

If any lesson can be learned from the frequency with which tragedy mars the observance of holidays, it will be that more and more education is required in methods of avoiding the usual hazards of those occasions—not forgetting that the approaching week-end will bring another holiday, with its night dangers increased by the type of celebrations common to welcoming the New Year.

High Percentage of Veterans Working

A STUDY made for the Research Council of Economic Security with the purpose of showing the present status of World War II veterans indicates that 89 per cent of the total number are now employed.

During the three years since the end of the war, many former service men have gone to college, to trade schools, or have taken on-the-job training, all of which have led in most cases to permanent employment. Some difficulty has been experienced by disabled veterans in finding jobs. More cooperation by employers is needed for these men to find places of usefulness.

Generous treatment given veterans by the government has borne fruit in this large group of productive citizens. The readjustment from military service to civilian life has been helped by training, bonuses, and insurance benefits. As a result, veterans have done a good job of beating their swords into plowshares.

When Worries Drive Away Sleep

PROMINENCE of Sumner Welles, former undersecretary of state, results in nation-wide attention being directed to the peculiar circumstances under which he came near losing his life a couple of nights ago, as a result of falling unconscious in 15-degree temperature, during an after-midnight walk from his Maryland home.

A sufferer from insomnia, and worried over the fate of his friend, Laurence Duggan, who was killed by falling from a 16th floor office window in New York a week before, an after-midnight stroll may seem quite natural procedure, but it would appear better—under such a nervous strain—that Mr. Welles, or anyone similarly distressed, should place himself under medical or hospital care, rather than trying to "walk off" the depressed feeling.

Always, after such exposure at sub-freezing temperature, there is danger of pneumonia or other complications, and there will be hope that early improvement noted in Mr. Welles' condition will continue to the point of full recovery.

Gains Being Made In River Traffic

IN THE EARLY DAYS of this country, the rivers were busy traffic arteries, the only routes by which sizable cargoes could be transported far inland. The development of the railroads as freight haulers in time greatly reduced the use of slow, cumbersome rafts and barges as cargo carriers.

Now, with railroads and truck lines working to capacity to carry the nation's commodities, the rivers are being called on to supplement these means.

Freight traffic on the upper Mississippi is setting new records in carrying steel, iron, coal, grain, and building materials. The idea of a barge route from New Orleans to New York is being studied. It would use canals and other rivers as links.

The first ocean-going ship to ply the upper Mississippi is planning trips between New Orleans and St. Louis as part of scheduled traffic with Cuba. Growing business on the plains west of the river is expected to augment the volume of freight sent by water.

The vigorous young nation which started its mercantile career with rafts and barges laden with furs, food and lumber, floated and poled to and from New Orleans still uses the river with new ships and other cargoes.

Harry Wade notices: "The hazards of life seem the same on all levels. There is as yet no known defense against the atom bomb or movie-house popcorn."

It is being suggested that there should be "higher pay for better men" in public service—but where are these "better men" to be found?

One great difficulty in pay adjustment is the vast gap between what a person's services are worth and what he thinks they're worth.

As Claude Callan sees it: "Some politicians are so big hearted they are not happy unless they are giving away other people's money."

What Some Other People Are Saying

GEN. LUCIUS CLAY, American occupation commander in Germany: "The military flame in German hearts has been dimmed by the demilitarization program of the western powers."

* * *

LEOPOLD FIGL, chancellor of Austria: "We believe the Austrian people have done everything in their power to become a worthy member of the United Nations as a free, sovereign state."

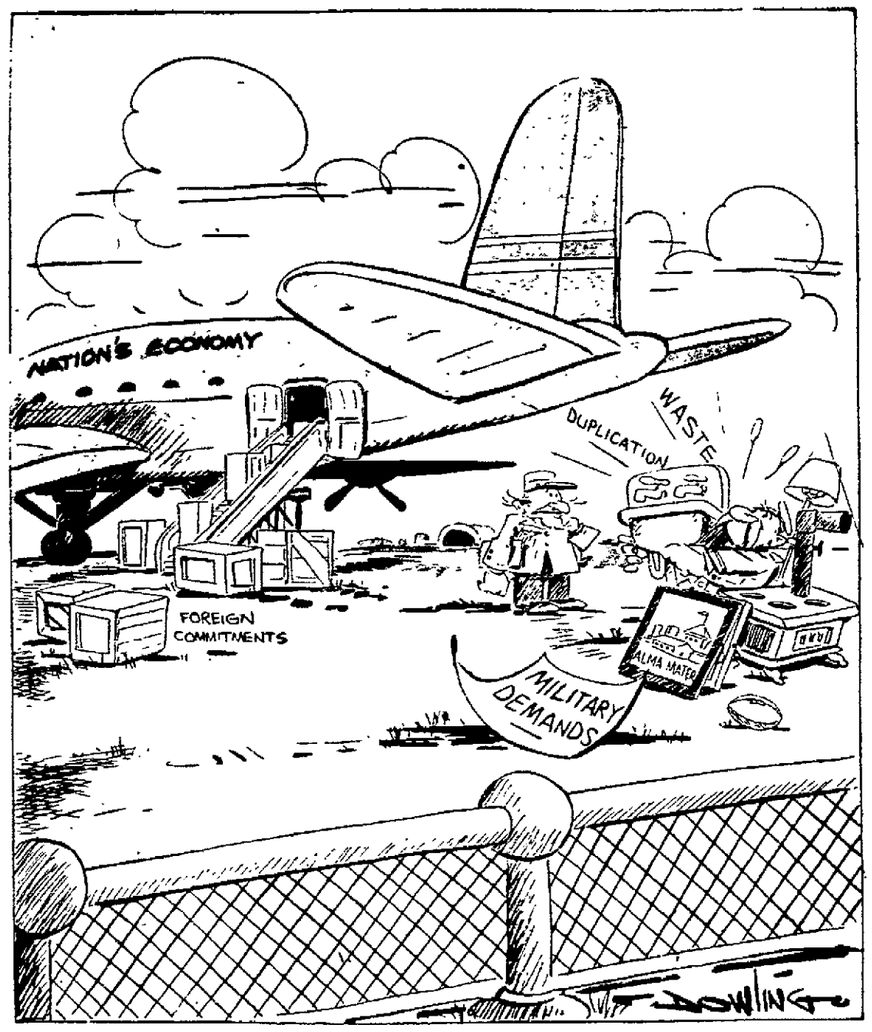
* * *

WU TE-CHEN, vice premier and foreign minister of the new Chinese cabinet: "The nationalists will continue fighting until the communists agree to protect freedom and promote the national welfare."



There's a Weight Limit, You Know.

Looking Back

Twenty Years Ago Today

Friday, Dec. 28, 1928.

City council sent proposed zoning ordinance back to planning commission for elimination of what were called "some objectionable features."

Benjamin P. Brandt, 88, Civil war veteran, died at his home, 59 State street.

Birth report: Son to Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Thompson, 128 Hedges street.

George Washington Robinson, 74, lifelong resident of Richland county, died at his home in Little Washington

Roy Lehnhart, 142 East Luther place, was injured when struck by auto on Park avenue west.

Girl friends arranged birthday surprise party for Mary Louise Jesson, 209 Gerke avenue.

Mrs. Sarah Alice Latimer, 76, died at her home, Lexington avenue.

TODAY IN HISTORY

On December 28, 1911, the Chinese throne consented to a national convention to determine a new form of government for the country.

Washington Calling

Troubles Ahead For UN

By MARQUIS CHILDS

THE CARTOONISTS these days customarily show the United Nations as a poor, frightened creature seeking refuge from the storms of violence and hatred sweeping across a divided world. She huddles in a doorway out of the cold, this poor, helpless, neglected thing.

The reality behind the symbol is more obvious every day. The flagrant violation of the United Nations truce agreement in Indonesia by the Netherlands government is just one more slap in the face for the U.N.

It is, of course, a particularly violent slap. So much is at stake as Asia's millions move from colonialism toward independence. This is one of those great marches of history that no force can deny.

In the hope that the transition might occur peaceably the U. N. had served as intermediary in difficult negotiations extending over many months. Now the UN good offices committee (Ironic name) can only shake an admonitory finger at the offender.

The next session of the UN general assembly will be held in this country. The date tentatively set is April 1. That points up a controversy which has been going on in New York for a long time.

One of the few constructive measures passed by the special session of Congress last summer provided a loan of $65,000,000 to the UN to build its headquarters on New York's east side. The new buildings are to rise on the site donated by John D. Rockefeller jr., whose gift to the UN was valued at $6,500,000.

But it happens that this site is in a blighted area. The magnificent new buildings will be approached through tenements and decaying commercial property. It is here that the controversy comes in.

The New York real estate firm, Webb & Knapp, that put together the site for Rockefeller has developed a comprehensive plan for improving the area around the site. New apartment buildings, shops, museums, a music center would come into being to enhance what would be, in effect, the capital of the world.

* * *

Opposition Appears.

OPPOSED to this plan is that doughty character, Robert Moses, planner and park designer, who has done so much to change the environs of the greatest city in the world. Moses, city construction co-ordinator, stubbornly insists that all than can be done or will be done is to widen certain of the streets approaching the site.

In a bitter dispute before New York's board of estimate, Mayor William O'Dwyer accused Webb & Knapp of having a financial interest through the sale of real estate in the area.

The firm had proposed that certain property be condemned by the city and sold under condemnation. Not long after this charge was made, Webb & Knapp, one of the largest operators in New York, sold all the parcels they owned adjoining the UN site.

This step was taken in order to avoid any appearance of having a selfish interest. But it did not break the deadlock. Moses, according to last report, is still holding out for his limited objective.

This may seem to be a teapot tempest when measured alongside the other troubles brewing in various parts of the earth. Yet it has more significance than we may realize The psychologists tell us that what we do counts for more than what we say.

From the first the UN has fared badly in this country. UN officials will not soon forget their scramble to find a place to build a world capital. The poor refugee went from city to city, including several here in the east that had seemed to be friendly.

Dull Report Submitted

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON — The President's Council of Economic Advisers has just issued a dull report.

After reading 16 of its 38 pages I fell asleep. I finished the rest later in a spirit of "I'll do it if it kills me."

This report, put out over the weekend, is an annual affair.

The three-man council issues one every year at this time. This is the third time. The council was created by Congress in 1946.

As usual, the report is not well-written, although it seems to be an improvement over previous ones.

The council seems to be aware of its literary shortcomings. It admits it's been criticized, and says:

"The criticisms have been stimulative to our own further thinking and have also revealed the fact that some of our ways of stating our thoughts have been obscure or misleading."

But getting out this report is only part of a great deal of work which the council does all year.

Its job is to keep the President, Congress and the nation informed on how we're doing here at home economically.

It was created by Congress to help us steer a middle course between boom and bust.

The annual report is not to be confused with the economic report on the nation which President Truman will hand Congress in January.

* * *

Middle-of-Road Safety.

THE COUNCIL will have a major hand in helping the President put together that January report It probably will contain more meat than this report. It couldn't contain less.

The three economic advisers are like ducks on a rock: Wide open to be shot at if they say anything that displeases anyone.

So far, in its more than two years of life, the council has escaped any fierce criticism from labor, business or Congress. All three watch the council carefully.

And this report isn't apt to make anyone very mad, except maybe the far left. The report explains in great detail how much work the council has to do, and how hard its trying to do it.

And it discusses some of the country's economic problems. But there isn't anything now in what it says.

Some businesses are big, some are small, and they have problems. And there's the problem between labor and management. For example:

Should the government step in and stop strikes or try to force management and labor to reach a settlement? The council says:

"There is no strictly logical answer to the proposition that the concept of a public interest superior to any group interest, which has found its way into so many fields, will ultimately impose upon the government the responsibility for settling labor disputes if they reach a state where the national interest will not permit their continuance.

"And many prudent men would deem it better to establish a pattern for such settlements before crisis arises which might in a moment of clamor develop a pattern inimical to one or both of the parties."

That's pretty carefully stated. So is the whole report.

Reopening of Mexico's Oil Lands Urged

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Antonio Bermudez, President Aleman's top oil adviser, has informed the state department that he will "publicly deny" any news leaks regarding secret negotiations, now in progress, for an oil agreement between the United States and Mexico.

However, it is nonetheless a fact that both the state department and private American oil interests —chiefly the Texas company and Cities Service—have been trying for some time to persuade the Mexican government to reopen Mexican oil lands to American operators.

The state department contends that this would greatly benefit both countries, since Mexico is sorely in need of Mexican dollars for trading on world markets, while we need all the additional oil Mexico can sell us.

So far, the negotiations have been stymied by two factors. One is the refusal of American oil companies to invest further capital in Mexico unless they are assured by Aleman of legal protection against future confiscation.

Also President Aleman has feared that Mexican communists could incite revolt if American oilmen renew operations in Mexico. Instead, Aleman wants a loan from the United States so his country can expand its oil production under Mexican management.

* * *

Christmas Junket.

ALL THIS explains why President Aleman has sent his own private airplane to Washington to carry back Rep. Bob Crosser of Ohio, Crosser's daughter, son-in-law and two grandchildren on a Christmas vacation junket to Mexico—all at Aleman's expense.

What the president of Mexico knows is that Congressman Crosser will be the new chairman of the House interstate and foreign commerce committee, which has a lot to do with foreign purchases of oil and other imports. His ideas on Mexican oil may be important.

Besides Crosser and his relatives, others included in the vacation flight to Mexico were Elton J. Layton, clerk of the interstate and foreign commerce committee, his wife, and Lieut. Col. and Mrs. John Meyer. Colonel Meyer is an air forces liaison officer on Capitol Hill.

Note—Compromise on Mexican oil may be a loan to Mexico for the construction of nonspeculative refineries and pipelines, with the understanding that American companies be permitted to drill in Mexico on a limited scale and with full legal protection against confiscation. Also, Mexican oil exports to the United States would be sold through "Pemex," the Mexican government monopoly.

Mass Suicide In Shanghai.

FIVE THOUSAND grim and desperate White Russians — communism's first victims—are waiting with their backs to the wall for the Chinese communists to sweep into Shanghai. Pushed as far as they can go, these tragic refugees who fled across Siberia in 1917-18 have chosen the only escape left—mass suicide.

Intercepted letters from Shanghai's White Russians reveal that many are actually carrying poison or planning to hurl themselves off buildings in case the communists take over. All too vividly they remember what the press had said little about—the fate of their White Russian cousins who were swallowed up by the Chinese Reds in Manchuria.

Hysterically the White Russians are trying to leave China. The international refugee organization has helped evacuate those of Jewish ancestry to Palestine and a few others to South American countries. But the U. S. consulate has slammed its doors in the faces of those who have besieged the United States for visas.

The story of Shanghai's White Russians is one of the most epic in modern times.

Many had been noblemen and aristocrats under the czar. Others had been laborers on the czar's Siberian railroad. Fleeing across Siberia, they eventually filtered down to Shanghai, where king and commoner worked side by side—often as coolies.

After V-J day, the Soviets granted amnesty to Shanghai's White Russians—and gave them a salestalk about coming back to Russia. Two-thirds of the community flocked to the Soviet consulate for citizenship, and four Russian boatloads sailed for Vladivostok and disappeared behind the Iron Curtain.

By prearranged code they hinted of bitter disappointment in the few letters that trickled back. One couple escaped, and gave a first-hand account. Then the newly inducted Soviets began renouncing their citizenship simply by announcing it in the vernacular press. More than 1,000 return to their stateless status.

Today they are "political lepers"—a lost colony in the heart of Shanghai's teeming millions. They have no country to turn to, no embassy to protect them. Their only hope—if the worst comes—is the poison they carry in their pockets.

Just Try To Break In!

By KENNETH L. DIXON

WASHINGTON—From a point of view of seeming physical security, not even their worst political enemies could charge that the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission members have taken a casual attitude about protecting this fearsome new plaything of Mars they now control.

Presumably — for obvious security reasons, no one could say with certainty — the A. E. C. headquarters here in Washington contains a large fistful of atomic secrets.

And the A. E. C. headquarters unquestionably is the most grimly and efficiently guarded building in the city of Washington, at this writing.

Its protection was jointly planned by top-ranking security police officials and experienced and imaginative intelligence and espionage experts . . . The result is a dramatic example of physical security.

The building's protection personnel includes approximately one hundred hand-picked and specifically-trained guards, screened on a basis of both physical and mental ability and developed into experts in fields varying from judo to marksmanship.

Every visitor entering the building is subjected to the alert scrutiny of from two to half a dozen such guards, and the scrutiny is repeated as he is escorted up and down the corridors on the various floors.

Picking and training of such men, as well as bossing the building's entire security set-up, is the responsibility of Bryan F. La Plante, a veteran of Army counter-intelligence, who constantly seeks to ferret out and correct flaws in his system.

Needless to say, the guards are equipped with an arsenal of weapons varying from side-arms to submachine guns, and including a few which they have no intention of describing.

Nevertheless, it is the mechanical rather than the human protection which is most dramatic about the building.

During the day, only two doors are left open, front and back, and they are heavily guarded. At night, even they are closed and crash-barred, and admission of even identified and "cleared" personnel can be gained only after a floodlighted inspection which practically lights up every pore in your skin.

* * *

How Place Is Guarded

THEN, after an intricate badge-and-pass routine reminiscent of the most fool-proof wartime systems, you might be admitted.

If you tried to enter surreptitiously, by any other method, you'd promptly encounter the almost fiendishly meticulate mechanical protective system.

First, huge floodlights bathe every nook and cranny of the building's exterior with a glaring white. Should the lights suddenly fail, an automatic alarm would be set up.

Second electric "eyes" are spotted all over the outside and on top of the building. La Plante's security experts say that anything "heavier than birds, hailstones or leaves" will activate the eyes, flash a signal on a central board and alert every guard in the building, all of whom could converge on the spot in less than two minutes time!

So it goes. Tamper with a window and you set off the electronic tape system. Fool with Air conditioners are wired the fire escapes and you run into wired aluminum sheathing, against prowlers and filtered against gas. The heat tunnel is blocked by concrete.

Within the building itself, the physical and mental security aspects are even more closely grooved. All secret papers are locked in safes when not being used, and, of course, at night. The building is fireproof, and the safes are both fireproof and crashproof. They are checked hourly throughout the night.

From an intelligence point of view, A. E. C. personnel know only what is specifically needed to do their job. Attempts to learn anything outside their particular requirements are summarily dealt with. Phone conversations on important matters are forbidden, except in emergencies, and then must be conducted in a cryptic code.

All in all, the A. E. C. headquarters would seem to be as adequately protected as is humanly feasible. Yet there are veteran police, military, espionage and sabotage experts who insist that, due to certain "cold war" handicaps, it remains quite vulnerable.

Their views will be outlined in a subsequent story.

As Cerf Tells It

The most dejected looking beggar in the world accosted Aviatrix Jacqueline Cochrane in Palm Springs one day, and whined "Could you spare me a quarter, lady, so's I can go where my family is?"

Miss Cochrane was suspicious but unable to resist the woebegone look in his eye: "Here's TWO quarters," she said. "Where is your family?"

The beggar, miraculously revived, told her, "At the movies."

Truth Is Marching On.

Editor News-Journal:

The year 1948 is outstanding in progress. In it civilization has passed three mile-stones in human betterment—the Bill of Human Rights for the nations; the freedom of India's Untouchables; and the birth of the republic of Israel.

Well can we be thankful for these achievements. For it reveals a trend of moral transition compatible with intelligence. For only when intellectual capacity and truth are compatibly united in reformative measures can great ethical changes in human welfare be realized.

Surely humanity needs more Mohandas Gandhis with their sacrificial examples of personal power for good. For it seems we only have what we give through whatever means life may be consecrated to unselfish service.

Words of the Wise

The virtue of a man ought to be measured not by his extraordinary exertions, but by his everyday conduct.—Blaise Pascal.

The fundamental principles of justice are, in the first place, that no injury be done to anyone; and, secondly, that it be subservient to the public good.—Cicero.

Timely Editorial

Lobbying Assured.

Activities of big and well-financed lobbies during the sessions of the Eightieth Congress account for proposal of a new investigation of Washington lobbying. It evidently will go on during the incoming Congress on a scale as large as during the last two years.

To have another investigation might be worth while, but we doubt that legislation can go much farther to restrict lobbying than the present law goes. Most of it is protected by the Constitution's guarantee of every citizen's "right to petition the government for a redress of grievances."

Some lobbies support good law, some bad law. Against bad lobbying, the force of public opinion will remain the most effective regulator.—Detroit News.

Birds In Wintertime

By CALVIN A. BYERS

WINTER is slow to come, but today the sky was dull with white, low-hung clouds. Flakes of snow curved through the sharp air and were lost in the rough jagged ruts of the lane near the graveled road. Cattle stood humped up, with hair on end, looking most uncomfortable.

I went up to the woods, where quiet reigned and the wind did not touch. Starlings flocked on the wiry branches of young trees —a bluejay lit upon the leafy floor to search for treasure in silence. A half dozen robins flew from tree to tree resignedly, as though existence were a burden.

I have seen robins near our streams for several winters past. They spend the nights in the evergreens.

Their lack of spirit and of voice seems to indicate that they are migration birds — perhaps from Canada, wintering here . . . they will not nest in this country.

A pair of turtle doves still perch upon our telephone wires, wallow in the dust of the roadside, and fly up when cars approach. I have seen these, too, about our buildings in the deep snows of early spring.

The low voiced night owl calls from the hillside against the gale. An answering voice seldom fails to respond from another niche of woodland.

The quail's spontaneous note is common language throughout our valley. From mid-afternoon until dark the mother of the Wh-i-ites sings her sprightly presence.

The woodchuck's hole shows no tracks. Mother Earth benignly enfolds him for his winter sleep. I shivered there, half enviously, wondering if dreams were permissible in his torpor stage.

A bit of bark protruded from a trunk. I pulled it loose and was amazed to see a score of ants, a queen bumblebee, a butterfly's cocoon, a slate-colored moth and a few small flies. The first warm spell would bring out living hosts of insects. So far they have not succumbed to the brief periods of chill.

Watercress grows green and perfect in the flowing spring water below our wall. It is the first year I remember when it was ready to eat for the holidays.

Violence Held Most Headlines

All Emotions Played Role

By JOHN H. BELFORD

COLUMBUS — (UP) — Crime, tragedy, death, violence, love and politics all played important roles in the Ohio news in 1948.

A governor took a wife....a famed inventor died....a "mad-dog" pair of killers blazed a trail of terror....a speeding passenger train turned a gala sledding party into a scene of death ...pickets battled non-strikers and police ... and Ohio returned to the fold of the democratic party.

Those were the headline stories of the year in Ohio.

The brief but all-too-long terror and murder spree by Robert M. Daniels, 24, of Columbus, and John C West, 22, of Parkersburg, W. Va., was the no. 1 story in Ohio during the past year — excluding the bitter fight at the ballot box on Nov. 2.

In a span of 13 days, Daniels and West shot and killed six persons. The killer pair was finally trapped at a road-block near Van Wert on July 23. West was shot to death while resisting arrest. The boastful Daniels was tried and found guilty of the brutal corn-field murders of John Niebel, superintendent of the Mansfield reformatory farm, his wife and daughter. The young reformatory parolee is scheduled to pay for his crimes in the electric chair at Ohio penitentiary Jan. 3.

The New Year was barely underway when one of the worst tragedies in recent years struck the quiet little town of Archbold in the northern part of the state.

Farmer Jesse Wyse hitched his tractor to a sleigh and 13 children piled on. They were singing and laughing as they rolled over the snow

They came to an unguarded railroad crossing near Archbold. Wyse looked both ways, then started across the tracks. He failed to see the New York Central's fast passenger train, the Chicagoan, roaring down on the crossing at 80 miles an hour

The tractor pulled clear of the tracks, but the sled-load of children was directly in the train's path. Ten of the 13 children were killed.

Gov. Thomas J. Herbert started the new year off by taking a wife, the former Mildred Stevenson of Indianapolis They were married in Indianapolis and spent their honeymoon in Florida

January, 1948, was at its very end when news came that Orville Wright, co-inventor of the airplane, had died quietly at Miami valley hospital in Dayton at the age of 76 His brother, Wilbur, died in 1912

★

In mid-April heavy rains throughout Ohio sent the state's rivers and creeks out of their banks. The Ohio, Scioto, Hocking and Miami rivers—to list only a few — drove hundreds of persons from their homes.

May produced two big news stories in Ohio — the primary election to pick the candidates who would fight it out in the November general election and the climax to the violence-marked strike at the Univis lens company plant in Dayton.

The weather was the big news in August. One of the worst heat waves in recent years had Ohioans mopping their brows as the mercury soared past the 100-degree mark in many communities. Traffic fatalities increased as city residents headed for open country in search for a cool spot.

Scientist Finds Metal Has Memory

Layer of Atoms Seen Responsible

BERKELEY, Calif. —(AP) — Metals have a "memory" of their past history and behave accordingly, a University of California scientist reported today.

The temperature at which an alloy is formed gives the metal an individuality which cannot be changed except by remelting and reforming the stuff under a different degree of heat, said Dr. J. E. Dorn, professor of physical metallurgy. His experiments were sponsored by the Office of Naval Research.

No matter how much the metal is worked subsequently, it retains the "memory" of its temperature at the time of formation. Alloys conditioned at 100 to 200 degrees below zero will withstand heavier loads without becoming deformed than those produced at higher temperatures, Dr. Dorn said

This individuality apparently is caused by a layer of atoms between the faces of the crystals which form the metal. This layer does not change the crystals themselves but constitutes a "dislocation" which affects the positions of the crystals relative to each other.

The dislocation was found by English researchers The work of Dr. Dorn demonstrates that different temperatures produce different kinds of dislocations and result in variations in the behavior of the finished metals.

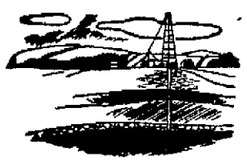
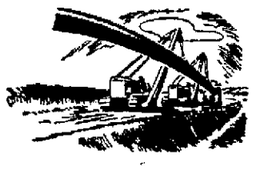
Your Gas Supply is getting better!

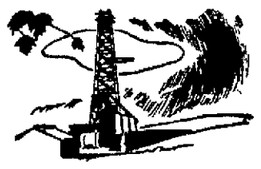
Because



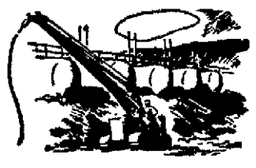
Compared to last year, The Columbia Gas System has been able to place more gas in underground storage through the Summer.



The pipelines which carry gas from the Southwest to the System's lines have been able to increase their capacity and deliver more gas to us.



More than 275 new wells have been drilled to maintain the high rate of production in the Appalachian gas fields.



Columbia spent about $50,000,000 in the last 12 months constructing new facilities to handle these new gas supplies.

But

You, the public we serve, still want and are using more gas than present transmission facilities can supply during the extremely cold spells of Winter.

There will be industrial curtailments this winter, but there should be enough natural gas to supply all of your homes. However, in the event of unusual conditions, it may again be necessary to ask you to conserve this most convenient of fuels. If we do, we will again, very sincerely, say "Thank You" for your willing co-operation.

Meanwhile

The Columbia Gas System companies and their suppliers of Southwest gas are continuing to build more lines, more compressor stations, greater storage capacity for an even greater service to you as fast as steel becomes available and other conditions permit.

HOLIDAY DANCES PLANNED FOR GAY MANSFIELDERS

Many New Year's Eve Dances Planned By Fraternal Organizations and Private Clubs.

DANCES take the spotlight in the social whirl for Mansfielders this holiday season. As has been the custom for many years several fraternal organizations will hold New Year's eve dances.

The Elks and their guests will dance on Friday evening at the Elks home from 10 until the wee hours. On the same evening OUR club members will hold their annual holiday dance at the ballroom of the Mansfield Leland hotel from 11 p. m. to 3 a. m. Following the dance there will be a breakfast served. Mr. and Mrs. James McConnell are chairmen and will be assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wirsch and Mr. and Mrs. Avery Hand jr.

Baku Grotto members and their guests will hold a dance at Grotto hall on New Year's eve. Music will be furnished by Glenn Wendland and his orchestra, beginning at 10 p. m. Monarch Homer Dent announced that refreshments will be served during the evening.

Shriners and their guests are holding a formal at Richland Recreation on New Year's eve, with music by Bill Leicy's orchestra, from 10 until 2. Breakfast will be served following the dance.

Also at Richland this week will be the open informal dance tomorrow evening with music by Tommy Van's orchestra. On New Year's eve the Richland Recreation will hold an open cabaret style dance in the dining room, by reservations only.

OUR club members are entertaining their children at the ballroom of the Mansfield Leland hotel tomorrow from 4 p. m. to 6 p. m. Dancing will be the diversion of this annual holiday party. Mr. and Mrs. Norman Wolfe will be chairmen, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hout and Mr. and Mrs. Ephraim Brown.

* * *

Two hundred couples danced to the music of Percy Lowery and his orchestra from Columbus last night at the Mansfield Leland hotel during the annual Delta Sigma Zeta Christmas formal. Dancing was held from 10 p. m. to 2 a. m.

The ballroom was decorated with various colored balloons, red and green crepe paper, mistletoe and evergreens.

Miss Anne Shawber was the general chairman for the dance and was assisted by Miss Suzanne Stoodt and Miss Betsy Clark.

* * *

Members of the Mansfield club of Ohio State university held a holiday dance last evening at the Richland Recreation with one hundred couples in attendance. The semi-formal affair was open but students from the university were much in evidence. Bill Leicy's orchestra furnished the music from 9 p. m. to 1 a. m.

Bob Mercer, president; Miss Barbara Tingley, secretary; James Sheads, and Bob Shill, composed the committee in charge of arrangements.

Miss Walker To Be Wed To Mr. Leppo

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Leppo, R. D. 1, Mansfield, held a surprise birthday party for Mrs. Leonard Rider, 653 West Third street.

During the evening the honoree's daughter, Miss Carol Belle Walker, announced her engagement to Robert Owen Leppo, R. D. 1. Mrs. Rider received several gifts, and the last one was an envelope with a piece of paper in it with the names written. The announcement was read aloud to the group present.

Twenty-five guests were served at a table centered with two decorated cakes. One was for the birthday and the other for the engagement announcement.

Games were the diversion of the evening with prizes going to Mrs. Fred Arter, Mrs. George Gazdak, Charles Walker jr., Gail Erely, George Wyckoff and Leonard Rider.

Cincinnati Guests Present

Members of Naomi Circle met at 3 p. m. in Eagles hall for a regular business session, followed by cards. Christmas gifts were exchanged. Mrs. Dan Lamneck was in charge of the 6 o'clock dinner.

Naomi Shrine, No. 10, met at 7 p. m. A ceremonial for fourteen candidates was held.

A. B. Roessler, supreme king from Cincinnati, was the guest. Mrs. Roessler, past worthy high priestess of a Cincinnati shrine, was also present.

The past worthy high priestesses served refreshments with Miss Velma Hursh as chairman.

The next regular meeting will be January 24 at Eagles hall.

Amvet Auxiliary To Hear Officer

A social meeting was held by the members of the Amvet auxiliary Monday evening in the clubrooms.

Reports were given on the membership drive which will end Jan. 10, and the families the organization fixed baskets for during Christmas.

Mrs. Katherine Snyder, Lima, Ohio, past president of Ohio, will be present at the next meeting, Jan. 3. She will give a lecture on "Parliamentary Law."

Mr. and Mrs. Sabo Honeymoon In Florida After Dec. 2 Rite

MR. AND MRS. JOE SABO are honeymooning in Florida since their marriage Dec. 2 at noon in Trinity Lutheran church, Peoria, Ill. Mrs. Sabo is the former Miss Esther Streitmatter, East Maywood avenue, Peoria, and Mr. Sabo is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lucas Sabo, 856 Park avenue east.

The Rev. L. N. Peterson read the ceremony before a gathering of a few friends and relatives.

The bride wore a dress of royal blue crepe with matching accessories. She had a corsage of orchids.

Miss Ella Sabo, sister of the bridegroom, served as maid of honor. She was attired in a dress of smoke gray with matching accessories and a corsage of American Beauty roses.

Gilbert Tribley, Morton, Ill., friend of the couple, served as best man.

A dinner for the bridal parties and family was held following the ceremony. A reception for friends was held from 2 to 4 p. m.

After Jan. 5 the couple will be at home at Park avenue east.

Mr. Sabo is employed at the Tappan Stove company.

By DOROTHY ROE, AP Woman's Editor

Typically American, with a tart Yankee humor and a stout fighting heart, Senator Margaret Chase Smith of Maine, first woman to win an initial election to the U. S. Senate strictly on her own merit, has been voted the woman of the year by the editors of Associated Press newspapers.

Campaigning against what appeared to be overwhelming odds, capable, smiling Mrs. Smith, who once worked in a ten-cent store, rolled up a popular vote which was more than that of her three male opponents combined. In a heavily Democratic Congress, this Maine Republican's decisive victory proves once more that the American people love a fighter.

Among other women outstanding in their fields for 1948 are a number of new faces and several familiar to the yearly lists of the distaff Who's Who.

Dr. Helen Brooke Taussig, associate professor of pediatrics at Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore and noted heart surgeon at Johns Hopkins Hospital, was voted the year's outstanding woman of science because of her sensational work in "blue baby" operations.

In the field of business, the vote went to Vivien Kellems, the Connecticut cable grip tycoon, who has made the headlines regularly during the year by talking back to the U. S. government's income tax dignitaries.

Loretta Young won the crown as movie queen of the year, as Academy Award winner for her performance in "The Farmer's Daughter."

Jane Froman was named first lady of radio, because of her gallant comeback as a major star of the air after her tragic accident near Lisbon in 1943, when she was almost killed in a plane crash as she was flying to Europe to entertain servicemen. It took 25 operations and 5 years to restore a fractured leg, crushed ankle and arm, broken ribs and dislocated back and put her on her own two feet again. Last March she married John Curtis Brown, pilot of the clipper that crashed in the Lisbon harbor, who saved her life by holding her up for an hour after the crash, although his own back was broken and his skull fractured.

Outstanding in the field of education was Mabel Studebaker, biology teacher at Strong-Vincent High School in Erie, Pa., who was elected president of the National Education Association.

Voted outstanding in the field of sports for 1948 was Mrs. Fanny Blankers Koen, of Holland, who made history by winning four gold medals for track events in the Olympic games. A housewife and mother of two children, Mrs. Koen amazed the sports world with her sensational performance.

Runners-up in the voting for sports queen of the year were: Vicki Draves, of Los Angeles, Olympics diving star; Ann Curtis, of San Francisco, swimming champion; Babe Didrikson, the veteran golf champion; Barbara Ann Scott, Canadian skating sensation; Alice Coachman, track star; Zoe Ann Olsen, who also won Olympics diving honors, and

In the field of literature, Betty Smith, raconteur of Brooklyn, scored again with her new novel, "Tomorrow Will Be Better," based on the same pattern as her earlier success, "A Tree Grows in Brooklyn."

Beauty honors of the year went to Beatrice Bella Shopp, of Hopkins, Minn., chosen Miss America for 1948.

Stage honors went to Talulah Bankhead, long one of the great ladies of the American theater, who won fresh acclaim for her performance in the Noel Coward play, "Private Lives."

Laurels for public service were voted again to Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, for her work with the United Nations.

Dress Designer Tells of '1949 Perfect Girl,' a Composite of 12

By VIVIAN BROWN
(AP Newsfeature Writer)

SAMUEL MURRAY LANGE, a dress designer, has designed a "perfect girl" for 1949. She is a composite of 12 reigning beauties, all done up as a plaster mannikin.

Ten of the twelve and the attributes for which they were selected:

Head—Society's Pamela Curran; facial bone structure—Model Wendy Russel; lips—Model Elaine Bassett; nose—Model Pat Ryan; eyes—Marlene Dietrich; bust — Lana Turner; waist — Constance Bennett; hips — Model Jo Cagle; legs—Starlet Arlene Dahl and "the detached look" — Lady Sylvia Ashley. He's not telling who the other two might be.

Lange says he spent six months creating his beautiful doll.

The most important thing about this wan beauty is her "bone structure," according to Lange. She has "interesting hollows and a visible cord in her neck. "She is not vigorous but rather the "hesitating type" with the Detached Look, ladylike and appealing, definite qualities a girl needs in 1949, he says.

She has three different hairdos —simple, madonna-like (added hair piece) for men; short and swirly as a luncheon conversation piece for the bridgfe club; casual for travel.

Here are the measurements of this ash-blonde super queen: Height—5 feet 6 inches without shoes; weight—114 lbs.; head — 21⅞ inches; shoulders—16 inches; bust—34½ inches; waist—23½ inches; waist—23½ inches; hips—34 inches; thigh—19 inches; calf—13 inches; ankle 7⅞ inches; waist to knee 28½ inches; center-neck to center back 18 inches.

It is a good idea to wash broccoli in warm salted water, changing the water four or five times, so that any insects in the heads will be removed.

VOICE OF BROADWAY

BROADWAY GRAPEVINE

Loretta Young is thrilled over the cable she just received from Princess Elizabeth congratulating her on her performance in "The Accused," which has been shown privately at Buckingham Palace. When Loretta was in England a year ago she met the princess, and Elizabeth confided, within earshot of a dozen dignitaries, that Loretta had long been her favorite American actress . . . Greer Garson's close friends report they wouldn't be a bit surprised if "Mrs. Miniver" retired from pictures—but permanently—when she became Mrs. Buddy Fogelson . . . Linda Christian has been under doctors' care in Europe. A "run-down condition" is the verdict . . . Harold Lloyd will desert Hollywood for most of 1949 to tour the country as Imperial Potentate of the Shriners.

This is still in the talk stage, but cinema insiders warn you not to be surprised to see Groucho Marx in a Joan Crawford film within the next year or so. In a straight, legitimate role, though—no shoe black moustache . . . Shirley Temple will meet with the Hollywood Women's Press Club in January to pow-wow with them over how she happened to be named the most uncooperative actress of the year. Shirley's alibi is that she never refused a single "legitimate" interview — so the girls will talk it over . . . The Tom Drake-Gloria Haley marriage has been postponed, but that's not the whole story; the romance is off.

Ronald Colman plans to come East in February to look for a Broadway play . . . Friends hear Barbara Hutton and her prince abandoned their plans to visit the United States this month because they had been approached for so many interviews and magazine picture layouts that they got frightened of the publicity involved . . . Uncle Sam will make lots of headlines between January and April of the coming year when he unveils half a dozen new airplanes, all of which are straight from the Buck Rogers comic strips . . . Mike Jacobs' pals are wearing Yuletide grins. The big promoter's health has taken a turn for the better . . . A cold wave sweeps Toots Shor's when Joe DiMaggio is there and Gloria King, the singer, walks in. Joe disputes the fact that they're related, although she swears there is a bona-fide kinship. She says she changed her name (which really is Gloria De Maggio) because she didn't want to capitalize on Joe's fame.

Believe it or not, the cover girl on a national magazine is wearing a wig. The editor wanted a redhead to pose for the picture, and couldn't get one—so they wound up with Peggy Rayne, Mrs. America of 1947, in an auburn toupee . . . Vic Damone is having a super, remunerative contract dangled in front of him by Paramount.

DRIED BEEF CASSEROLE

IT'S HARD to realize that this appetizing meal is based on just ¼ pound of sliced dried beef. Yes, it's the same dried beef that is usually served as creamed "sliced dried beef on toast." 'Tis true, that creamed dried beef is delicious, but let's capitalize on the versatility of this fine meat by serving it in other ways.

This platter is a tasty combination of dried beef, cheese sauce, diced green pepper and cooked macaroni. It has been baked on an ovenware platter so that everyone can be served a generous portion of the crispy brown crust.

Around the outer edge of the platter are hot baby lima beans which do their bit in adding color and flavor contrast to the dish. The menu is completed with jellied fruit salad and poppy seed rolls. Perhaps there's pecan crisp ice cream for dessert.

Dad Should Give Junior a Chance With His New Train, Too

COMPANIONSHIP in play is the ideal relationship between father and son. Some proud daddies overlook this ideal, particularly when a fascinating toy, such as a scale model train set, is involved.

Papa is inclined to buy Junior a model railroad empire, even if the latter is only four or five years old. This is because he likes to operate the set-up himself. Dad generally excuses his attitude by explaining he is only preventing the youngster from breaking expensive equipment. Junior just sits by sucking his thumb and looking wistfully at daddy.

Even very young children can get pleasure from the train set. Dad should see to it that Junior at least presses a button or two. If dad is too busy to play, mother may take a hand, advises William D. Perry, director of the A. C. Gilbert Hall of Science, the toy wonderland on New York's Fifth Avenue.

The child should not be a mere spectator. He must be given an active part in the train operation. This in turn, leads to the acceptance of responsibility. Too many fathers have their boys "sit it out" while they get all the fun out of the miniature choo-choos.

On the other hand, the parent who doesn't participate in train play has a tendency to leave the child alone and then berate him for breaking equipment. This may lead to fear in the child and a fear, in turn, of toys. Electric trains are considered a wonderful educational medium. Parents sometimes have to adjust their attitudes to Junior to allow him to get the greatest benefit from the trains.

HOROSCOPE

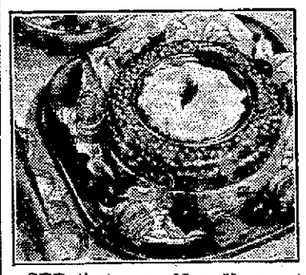
WHILE it is likely that a static or discouraging condition may be encountered, according to lunar transits, yet there are auguries for splendid prospects and tangible results by attacking such congestion with a resolute attitude. Aid from influential sources, financial and friendly, with disposition to confer reward for honest labor and sound principles. Discard old ideas and decide wisely.

For the Birthday.

Those whose birthday it is may decide to attack stagnant and crystalized conditions by a consolidation of resources, influence and labors, which would secure assistance from those whose funds, prestige and approbation are desired. It may be necessary to make definite changes in plans and operations to win this support, but in the long run there is hope of security and lasting returns for well-directed efforts. Discard "useless luggage," tangible and psychological.

A child born on this day may find itself inclined to the fixed and stable, serious and deliberate. Its sound labors may attract real support from high places.

Ice Cream Cake With Fruit Sauce:—Dilute peach jam with a little hot water and make tart with lemon juice. Scoop the centers from chocolate or spice cupcakes and fill with vanilla ice cream. Replace the slice from the top, cover with the peach sauce and serve.



SEE that your New Year gets off to a happy start by inviting a few friends in to "ring out the old, ring in the new." Nancy Holmes of the Best Foods Kitchens suggests an evening party, climaxed by a midnight buffet supper. And to help you get set for the fun and frolic, Nancy recommends this delicious New Year's Buffet Salad, which can be prepared well in advance, leaving the later hours to your leisure.

New Year's Buffet Salad.

1 package lime gelatin
1 tablespoon vinegar
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon sugar
1 cup canned green peas
½ cup diced celery
½ cup diced onion
2 pimientoes, diced
1 tablespoon unflavored gelatin
¼ cup cold water or chicken bouillon
¾ cup hot chicken bullion
1½ cups diced cooked chicken
½ cup real mayonnaise
½ cup chopped walnuts
Lettuce
Carrot curls and black olives
Real mayonnaise

Dissolve gelatin according to package directions. Add vinegar and seasonings. Chill until it begins to thicken, or has the consistency of thick unbeaten egg whites. Add peas, celery, onion and piniento. Mix well. Pour into an oiled 1½ quart mold. Chill. Meanwhile, soften unflavored gelatin in cold water. Chill until slightly thickened. Fold in chicken, mayonnaise and walnuts; blend well. Turn into the mold, spreading mixture over the firm, chilled vegetable layer. Chill until firm. Unmold on lettuce leaves, garnish with carrot curls and black olives. Serve with additional real mayonnaise, YIELD: 8-10 servings.

Good Party Punch Recipes

By ALICE DENHOFF

WHILE coffee is always the number one hospitality beverage during the winter season, and especially at holiday time, it is a good hostess that serves bright party punches when several guests foregather, and, of course, at parties. The mood grows mellow when guests group around the fireplace and sip a delicious frosty night punch helped down by delicious holiday cakes and cookies.

This recipe for punch serves 8, and it is a nice idea to make the punch in a glass kettle and serve it from the kettle, too. Pare the thin yellow peel from 4 lemons. Extract juice. (There should be about ⅔c.) Combine peel with 1½ c sugar (or part honey or corn syrup) in a glass tea kettle, or, lacking this, in a large bowl. Stir Pour 2c boiling water over 2 tbsp tea and 6 whole cloves and allspice. Steep for 3 min., then strain over the lemon-peel-sugar mixture, stirring to dissolve sugar. Strain. Combine and heat, but do not boil, 2c freshly extracted orange juice and 2c apple juice or cider. Add the hot strained tea mixture.

Just before serving, add the fresh, unheated lemon juice. Serve piping hot, garnished with unpeeled orange and lemon slices. This is an excellent drink after a day of tackling rich viands!

Coffee Cream Punch is sure to star at a dance for the young folks. To serve 12-15 make a quart of double-strength coffee and chill it at once by placing in a bowl of cracked ice. Pour into punch bowl, then add one pint of chocolate ice cream; stir until partially melted. Add ¼ tsp. almond flavoring to ½ pint heavy cream; whip until stiff. Place the whipped cream and another pint of chocolate ice cream on top of first mixture. Sprinkle lightly with nutmeg. Don't let the older folks get a taste of this delicious concoction, or there'll be none for the young folks.

Grape juice and cranberry juice combine, with their lovely color, to make an appropriate holiday drink for a nice party punch for 20-25 servings mix 2 quart bottles of grape juice, 2 quart bottles of cranberry juice and 2 tsp. grated orange rind. Chill. Just before serving, pour into glasses with finely crushed ice, garnish with pint sprigs.
